Democrats see record victory

The party of Presidents Jefferson and Jackson is "in the pink"—if it works hard between now and the general election next month.

That was the principal point voiced at a "think pink" party last night as the Democratic faithful rallied around Governor Daniel Walker, Congressman Melvin Price and a host of legislative, judicial and county candidates and officials.

Madison County Democrats held their tenth annual John F. Kennedy champagne dinner dance, complete with pink "bubbly," a pink-lit stage curtain, pink candles, pink cocktail napkins, a pink dessert which included strawberries and hundreds of pink-checked precinct committeemen and other party workers who jam-packed the spacious Meridian ballroom at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Gov. Walker delivered the main address, asserting that "if Franklin Delano Roosevelt or Harry S. Truman or John Fitzgerald Kennedy were here tonight, each one would give everybody the same message. "We are Democrats. We are proud to be. The enemy is the Republican party. The battlefield is Madison County, between now and Nov. 5."

"There is war to be won. Let's go out there and win it with the greatest Democratic victory this state has ever seen."

Gov. Walker praised Cong. Price as earning "straight A's in my book" for service to the 23rd District, and State Senator Sam Vadalabene as "a leivable guy whom people like and I like—a man who works full time for his district and for the state, and who could be part of the next Senate leadership."

The governor described State Rep. Horace Calvo as one "who stands up in the House. He is there when votes really count."

Walker said he will miss

Badly burned

Lester Thompson, 27, of 3250 Westchester Drive, remained in critical condition in the Burn Unit of Barnes Hospital today, suffering burns sustained at 8:15 p.m. Thursday when he fell into a tank of water and acid at Granite City Steel.

Thompson was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here and transferred a short time later to the Barnes Burn unit. He was reported to have suffered burns on 90 per cent of his body.

The accident occurred as Thompson, a foreman on the cold strip pickle line at Granite City Steel, was removing a cover from a hot water-acid tank.

A plant spokesman said that a crane cable caught on a hook of the tank cover as Thompson was working with the cover, causing him to be thrown into the vat. The spokesman said the tank contained hot water with an acid solution of about 2 per cent.

Cyclist killed

Donald Branch, 41, of 2310 W. 24th St., was injured fatally when the motorcycle he was riding and an auto driven by Mary E. Villiger, 23, of St. Jacob, collided on Route 40 near the entrance of the J. P. Burns Co. Inc. of Troy, at 12:58 p.m. Thursday.

Both vehicles were traveling west on Route 40. Authorities said the Villiger car attempted to pass Branch as he swerved to the left lane to make the turn into the Burns company facility where he is employed.

Branch was taken by am-

Committee backs SU presidents

Greater autonomy for the Edwardsville and Carbondale campuses and their presidents was urged here Thursday as the Southern Illinois University Ad Hoc Committee on Board and Executive Officer Relationships held a formal report Thursday to the SIU Board of Trustees.

The board agreed to invite the full committee to Carbondale for a discussion of the recommendations at the next regular meeting of the trustees on Nov. 14. The October board session took place at SIUE.

The 26-member committee was named June 13 to recommend any revisions in the basic document on board and executive officer relationships which are deemed necessary to assure maximum autonomy of each university within the SIU system.

Vaughnie J. Lindsay, dean of the SIUE Graduate School and co-chairman of the committee, told the trustees, "This report returns to the spirit of the March 19, 1973, version of the report on Board and Executive Officer Relationships."

"It includes additional clarification of the roles of the board staff and of the two

Everyone loves a parade, almost

Police officers escorting the Granite City High School South homecoming parade at 3:45 p.m. Friday found their traffic duties taken over by a motorist. He allegedly alighted from his auto at Johnson and Nameki Roads, stood in the middle of the intersection and halted the student floats, allowing regular traffic to proceed south along Nameki.

presidents, a change in the composition of the System Council, and the creation of a University Advisory Council to further increase information available to the board."

According to Ivan A. Elliott Jr., chairman of the SIU board, the report recommends changing the System Council's work to apply only to problems that cannot be resolved by the two presidents.

"At the same time, it would make the board's own executive committee part of the System Council, and it would remove the board staff chief from membership. It would make each campus president the main representative dealing with outside agencies, such as state and federal governments and the Illinois Board of Higher Education," Elliott said.

He continued, "Some of the solutions suggested in the

New jail assured

With nearly 11,000 signatures needed to force a special election on construction of a new Madison County Jail, the petition drive fell about 3,000 signatures short when the deadline arrived Friday.

The $4 million jail project has been authorized by the Madison County Board and now can proceed.

The petition drive originally had sought to include the topic among ballots in the Nov. 5 general election, but the timing made this an impossibility. As a result, the cost of a special election would have been necessary had enough people signed the referendum request.

20¢ price due to newsprint cost

The price of the Press-Record — unchanged for more than 3½ years — will rise from the present 15 cents to 20 cents effective Thursday, Oct. 17.

The main reason is the cost of newsprint. Newspapers are printed on blank paper rolls resembling gigantic adding-machine tapes. About eight ounces of this precious, shortage-plagued commodity go into an average Press-Record edition.

A year ago, a ton of newsprint cost $172. The current price of $234 will climb to $259 on Jan. 1. In this short period alone, the change from $172 to $259 is a rise of over 50 per cent, or several cents for each copy of each issue.

This fact alone makes a price change unavoidable.

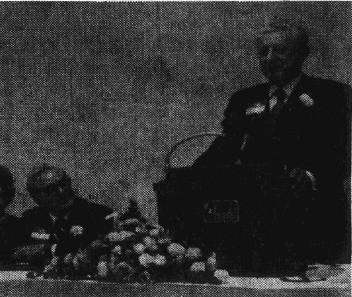

The cost of preparing and placing printed matter on the blank paper also has gone up sharply, just as inflation has affected all other businesses and every family in the nation. Ink is costlier, as are supplies, equipment, wages, fuel, shipping and warehousing.

Much of the price increase will be applied to meet these higher costs. There also will be substantial improvement of the portion that goes to individual carriers and to motor route operators.

A 20-cent price has been adopted by many newspapers in the U. S. In the case of the twice-weekly Press-Record, the rise from 15 to 20 cents will cost readers an extra dime a week — a smaller impact than when a daily paper boosts its price.

The Monday and Thursday issues will continue to provide the news and the advertising values of the entire seven-day week. With each issue averaging over 40 pages during the course of the year, Press-Record readers get a big product, larger in average size than that of any other newspaper in the Madison-St. Clair Counties area.

Mrs. Sara Dempsey, retiring Women's Division president, and her husband, C. A. "Jack" Dempsey, new Chamber president; and Mrs. Ruth Baker and her husband, Chester L. Baker, retiring Chamber president whose second tenure in the position began two years ago.

Outlook for ASF plant is bright

Granite City was praised as the heartland of America and as a major contributor to record Amsted Industries sales and earnings by Joseph B. Lanterman, Amsted board chairman, at the annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce dinner Thursday night.

Speaking to a capacity audience at the North High School cafeteria, Lanterman recalled his early association with the local American Steel Foundries plant, a part of the Amsted firm. The parent company now has 34 plants in 18 states with more than 12,000 employees.

"It's more than a pleasure for me to be back in the Granite City area," he commented. "It's a homecoming."

"It's rediscovering the roots of mid-America which continue to nourish and strengthen our country's industry and its agriculture."

"As Granite City ASF Works Manager Mitchell Milonski mentioned in his introduction, my first assignment with American Steel Foundries was at the Granite City works — 38 years ago."

"In early June of 1936, I rode the Illinois Terminal Railroad across the flat fields of corn from my home in Lincoln, about 130 miles northeast of here, to Granite City."

"I was fresh from the University of Illinois with a shiny new degree in accounting I had received only the week before."

"It was a time of some recovery from an economic depression that had bottomed out in about 1933. But for me it was a new beginning and a landmark in my life," Chairman Lanterman recalled.

"Right here in Granite City, I was to discover the tradition of American Steel Foundries, a company which had been pouring molten steel into castings for 42 years before I arrived on the scene."

"The castings were side frames and bolsters for railroad freight cars that were bringing our land together, keeping it moving, making it grow."

"But at Granite City, there was much more to discover than molten steel and castings. I discovered the people who were the unifying thread — the people who were American Steel Foundries."

"I recall an old bunk house which had been built on the plant grounds during the 1820s. It was first used to house supervisors during a strike. But

Thousands of calls by Visiting Nurse Association here each year

The Visiting Nurse Association, a non-profit agency of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, agency provides the local community with professional skilled nursing service, physical therapy, speech therapy, nutrition counseling and home health aide service. All care is administered under written orders from each patient's physician.

New degree in social work

Trustees of Southern Illinois University on Thursday authorized a new bachelor degree in social work to be offered at SIU at Edwardsville, subject to the approval of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The new degree would incorporate existing courses in sociology, psychology, anthropology, economics and government, plus some new courses, and can be funded by minimal new resources from the state, the trustees were advised.

The degree is expected to help upgrade persons already employed in area social service agencies as well as provide specialized training for undergraduate students.

This program fits well within the University's mission as a service center to the people of the Metro East area where social problems are prevalent and the need for trained social workers is evident," Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, said.

received for assistance by a registered nurse. The funding also assists residents unable to afford care to receive whatever services the physician feels are necessary.

Dressing changes, catheter care, injections and restorative nursing make up the bulk of the calls made in the Tri Cities in the past year.

A spokesman commented, "Your United Way pledge works many ways. Assisting the Visiting Nurse Association to assist people in the community is only one of the ways each person helps with his gift to the United Way.

In the Quad-City area during the first eight months of the current calendar year, records show 1,383 nursing visits to 173 patients, 152 physical therapy and speech therapy visits and 612 home health aide visits.

Contracts awarded for GC traffic signal jobs

Contracts for installation of traffic signals at Route 3 and West Pontoon Road in north Granite City and for enlargement of the intersection and modernization of the traffic signals at Nameki Road and Fehling-Johnson roads were awarded Thursday by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The Route 3-West Pontoon job went to the Macclair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville on a bid of $200,991. The contract for the Nameki-Fehling-Johnson project which will include installation of modernized traffic signals with left-turn lights was awarded to C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City on a bid of $137,345.

A contract for widening and resurfacing 1.57 miles of Route 143 from U.S. 40 to the Madison-Bond County line also was awarded to Macclair Asphalt Co. which bid $281,224.

Keeley Bros. Contracting Co. of East St. Louis was awarded a contract to install traffic signals and anti-skid proof paving at Illinois Road and Pine Lake Road, Collinsville. The bid was $74,907.

Contracts for two state highway traffic signal projects also were awarded to R. Don Electric Co. of Granite City. The company received a contract on a bid of $128,412 for the installation of a traffic control system on Illinois 157 at the ramps of Interstate 64 south of Caseyville.

It also received a contract on a bid of $70,186 to install traffic control signals in East St. Louis. The DOT awarded contracts on eight projects in this district at a cost totaling $2.6 million. Largest project was reconstruction of the intersection of U. S. Route 50 and Route 161 in Fairview Heights, awarded to Hoeffken Bros., Inc., of Belleville on a bid of $1,063,201.

More funds to transport special education pupils

Help is coming for those school districts worried about state reimbursement for transporting special education students to and from summer school.

An amendment to a bill signed into law by Gov. Dan Walker provides for just that reimbursement. However, there is one catch: it is retroactive to July 1, 1974.

This means that the burden of cost for that portion of summer school falling before this date will fall on local school districts.

"Beginning next summer school, the state will begin reimbursement for the full summer school period," explained a spokesman from the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

An existing provision of the code allows for reimbursement for this practice for children attending private facilities outside their school districts. However, the spokesman pointed out that, there are very few in this category.

The question of "to reimburse or not to reimburse" arose last year when the finance and education section of OSPI took over the responsibility of paying for the transportation of special education students.

Two conflicting sections of the Illinois School Code — lawbook for the state education office — were found governing this practice.

Hereafter, the state office had been reimbursing the districts for summer school transportation of "special education" students. State reimbursement amounts to about 80 per cent of the cost.

Special legislation was introduced this spring by Sen. Thomas Hynes (D-Chicago) to clarify the section. This bill was later changed into an amendment and latched onto another bill sponsored by the Committee on Education. It was signed into law in September.

Main thrust of the new law provides for the transfer from the general revenue fund to the common school fund in 10 installments, one-tenth or as much as necessary from the amount appropriated to OSPI to distribute to school districts.

This practice, currently done monthly, must be carried out before the 15th of each of the months of August through May.

John Bacskai dies at home

John (Bosky) Bacskai, 89, of 1638 Poplar St., was pronounced dead at his home at 3:30 p.m. Friday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner. An inquiry is pending.

Mr. Bacskai was born in Hungary and had lived in Granite City the past 60 years. Prior to retirement, he was employed 35 years as a press operator at the Nesco plant.

His wife, Mrs. Anna Bacskai, died on March 25, 1969. He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. George (Ella) Gochett of Madison; one son, Louis Bacskai of Granite City; a brother in Hungary; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Guild donates to Church Women

The Evening Guild of St. John United Church of Christ voted to donate $25 to the Nearly New Clothing Center and Layettes for the Newborn, both sponsored by Quad-City Church Women United, at a meeting last week.

Mrs. Dorothea Kirksey, president, conducted the business session during a joint gathering with the Evening Guild at St. Peter Evangelical Church of Christ.

Members of the St. John guild also discussed purchasing a refrigerator for the church, and Mrs. Kirksey announced that members will serve dinner at a Girl Scout leaders reunion, scheduled on Nov. 14.

A program by the New Life Singers of the First Assembly of God Church and a magic show by Scott Buenger followed the business meeting.

The St. John guild will next meet Nov. 4.

Good News Class plans dinner

Plans were finalized for a family Thanksgiving dinner, to be held on Nov. 4 at the Suburban Baptist Church, during a meeting last week of the Good News Sunday School Class.

Mrs. Hildreth Lewis, 3202 Colgate Place, was hostess at the October meeting of the group.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Wanda Lyster and the president, Mrs. Georgia Harlow, was in charge of the business session.

Greeting cards were sent to members who are ill. Mrs. Lucille Veach installed the class officers, using the theme "Look at Your Hands" during the ceremony.

Mrs. Alta Mae Cockrell, class teacher, gave the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served to those named and to Mesdames Ruth Goodman, Wanda Bradford, Evelyn Mohorn, Ella Mae Watts, Mary Lou Summers and Edna Jackson.

Food stamps topic of Golden Agers

A potluck dinner was served to 89 members and guests of the Golden Age Circle Club at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center last week, preceding the club's monthly business session.

Mrs. Ruby Corbett, president, introduced three new members, Mrs. Lena Wood, Mrs. Mildred Gray and Mrs. Marie Berachchi, and guests, the Rev. and Mrs. James Jones of the Church of Christ and their son, Tommie, and David Morgan, housing director.

Guest speakers, Alderman Everett Morlen and Christopher Caul, discussed the need for more food stamps in this area and other programs beneficial to senior citizens.

During the afternoon games were played and prizes were awarded to Elizabeth Gazo, Ida Rankin, Catherine Sekora, Belle Kreher, Anna Noeth and Orville Reiss.

Food services, SIUE courses explained to senior citizens

Mrs. Helen King, a director of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, reported on the Budget Food Service, which soon will be in operation for all senior citizens, at a meeting of the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens.

Special educational courses for senior citizens, 60 years and older, are now available at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the speaker said. Persons interested may contact Mrs. King at 1-636-2863.

Representatives of Quad-City Senior Citizen clubs met at the Township Senior Citizen Center, 1818 Edison Ave. Edgar Paddock, president, presided.

A booth project at Charity Days was reviewed by the president, who said the proceeds will be used for center operating expenses.

Paddock said the center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. All senior citizens are welcome to visit at anytime, he added.

In addition to those named, others present were Mesdames Ruth Mann, Katherine Moser, Alyssa Seipel, Naomi Burnett, Grace Paddock, Naomi Ronney, Nola Heiney, Ruby Corbett, Vina Law, Georgia Butler, Helen Oberlin, Walter Dohi and Charles Kelly, Carl Huenken, David Morgan, Lowell Law and John Winklemeyer.

Club honors Mrs. Kowalk

The Dazzle Degen Pinocchio Club honored Mrs. Dorothy Kowalk on her birthday at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Loretta Coleman. The honoree received a gift from her "secret pal."

Those winning prizes at games were Mrs. Agnes Roderick, Mrs. Evelyn Ferro and Mrs. Mary Merz.

The hostess served a luncheon to those named and to guests, Mrs. Juanita Epperson, Mrs. Loretta Pritchard and Mrs. Evelyn McColligan, and members, Mrs. Mary Tucker, Mrs. Marian Lipscomb and Mrs. Toppie Borum.

Mrs. Cecil Cruise will host the Nov. 2 meeting.

Pieper-David nuptials at St. Elizabeth Church

St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Saturday afternoon of Miss-Kathleen Marie David, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. David, 5188 Nameoki Road, and Alan J. Pieper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd J. Pieper, 2661 Benton St.

Bouquets of white spider mums and pittosporum, arranged with urns of wood-wardia ferns, adorned the altar. Aisle hurricane lamps were festooned with white snow crystal pom poms and Wornburn Abbey roses adding to the setting for the 2 o'clock service.

Officiating at the double ring nuptial ceremony was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Malinowski. Organist Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw accompanied Alice Land, who sang "Mother Beloved," "Pans Angelicus," "Wedding March," "Ave Maria" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

Everted down the white carpeted aisle to the altar by her father, the former Miss David wore a floor length gown of white silk organza fashioned with an Empire bodice, high neckline and long bishop sleeves, accented with embroidered lace.

The A-line skirt was bordered with a ruffled flounce, which swept into a chapel train. She wore a camelot headpiece to secure her cathedral veil of imported bridal illusion, edged with a wide scalloped band of matching lace, and she held a cascade of miniature Royal Bouquet orchids and green pittosporum foliage.

Miss Joyce Johnessee, maid of honor, chose a yellow organza dress in Empire style, featuring long puff sleeves, a high neckline and full length A-line skirt.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Debbie David and Mrs. Kay Pieper, sisters-in-law of the bride and groom, and Miss Jeanne Pieper, the groom's sister, were attired alike in apricot gowns designed in identical style to the honor attendant's dress.

Each girl carried a cascade of Wornburn Abbey roses and green pittosporum, festooned with apricot, orange and yellow streamers. All wore fabric bows matching their dresses to hold in place maline veils.

Both flower girls, Emily Warncke, a cousin of the bride, and Laura Scharf, the groom's niece, were dressed in yellow frocks and carried baskets of Wornburn Abbey roses.

The groom selected Jack Jenkins as his best man. Groomsman and ushers included Bruce and Brian David, brothers of the bride, David Pieper, the groom's brother and Mike Copeland.

Guests were registered at a reception given at the VFW Hall by Miss Ruth Pfaffen.

Mrs. David, mother of the bride, appeared in a formal length gown of pink chiffon designed with a V-neckline and long sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Pieper, chose a mint green jersey dress, full length, fashioned with a jewel neckline and long sleeves. Both wore corsages of miniature Royal Bouquet roses.

Preceding the service, Susan Buehrer and Beth Ann Warncke, cousins of the bride, distributed ceremonial programs to the guests as they arrived at the church.

A dinner was served to the bridal party and their families at Charlie's Restaurant following the church rehearsal.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The groom is employed at Ford's Flowers. They will reside in Granite City.

D. F. Havens heads SIUE department

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday confirmed the appointment of Daniel F. Havens of Edwardsville as chairman of the department of English language and literature in the School of Humanities at SIUE at Edwardsville.

Havens, an associate professor, has been a faculty member since 1968. He earned bachelor, masters and doctoral degrees at the University of Michigan. In 1972, he won the Great Teacher Award presented by the SIUE Alumni Association for effectiveness as a classroom teacher.

In other personal matters the board:

Named Clifford H. Fore of Edwardsville as program director for the waste treatment plant. Fore, a lecturer in engineering and technology in the School of Science and Technology, joined the SIUE staff in 1965. He earned a bachelor degree at SIU at Carbondale.

Designated William J. Probst of Edwardsville as acting chairman of the department of chemistry in the School of Science and Technology. Probst, a faculty member since 1958, is a professor of chemistry. He earned his doctorate at the State University of Iowa.

Appointed Gilbert N. Zoeller of St. Louis, associate professor in the School of Dental Medicine, as director of clinics. He earned bachelor of science and doctor of dental surgery degrees at St. Louis University and has been a member of the School of Dental Medicine faculty at SIUE since it opened.

review raise questions on how to implement them.

There are a wide variety of responsibilities in the two-campus SIU system which would need considerable more attention than a modified board director or modified System Council could handle.

"Likewise, the board and its staff have some major responsibilities—such as ongoing relationships with external agencies—that might be difficult to delegate in ways the report suggests."

Elliott said that including the trustees' three-man executive committee on the System Council, which now consists of the presidents and chief of board staff, would be "almost impossible in practice" because the Council meets every other week.

"As one of those executive committee members, I know I couldn't attend every meeting," Elliott said. "We have specifically delegated our representation to the board staff chief."

The System Council was designed to provide a means for administrators to make policy recommendations to the board. Mixing administrators and board members on such a System Council seems to me to infringe on the administrator's prerogatives."

According to Dean Lindsay, the committee was divided into three subcommittees. One examined the context, the constituencies and the mission of both institutions for common and differentiating features.

One subcommittee examined management theory and the governance of the educational systems, and the third subcommittee reviewed the historical evolution and current status of the SIU system.

"Against this research, the final recommendations represent the considered judgment of all 30 members," she said.

Dean Lindsay said there were no minority reports and no dissenting votes. "The report was approved unanimously."

"We have fulfilled, to the best of our abilities within the time constraints imposed upon by the board, to recommend revisions essential to maximum autonomy of each university," Dean Lindsay said.

In remarks to the board, Elliott concluded: "The matter of a workable and fair system of governance that permits the utmost autonomy for each campus and a single voice for the system has been under working study since 1968, when SIUE began to decentralize. The review committee's work has contributed immensely toward a resolution."

Drive here to aid woman in Pakistan

A campaign to raise $800 to finance a heart pacemaker and an operation for a woman in Pakistan has been initiated by a group of Granite City residents.

The operation and pacemaker will save the life of the 45-year-old woman, Rabine Hefie, who lives in Rawalpindi, according to Mrs. Malcolm Thompson who said she learned of the woman's plight from a Pakistani doctor in Granite City.

The woman had a pacemaker installed about two years ago, but now needs a new one.

Donations may be sent to the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, Granite City.

Industrial park expansion plan

Madison Mayor Mike Saszyk informed the City Council last week that he is negotiating with the Chicago and Western Railroad for the purchase by the city of 12 acres of land adjoining the Maeras Industrial Park.

If arrangements can be made, a railroad siding will be put in, in addition to making further land available for industrial expansion, he said.

A discussion on children's Halloween activities was held. It was decided by the council that "trick or treating" will be limited Halloween night (Oct. 31) between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. only, and the children should be advised to stay in their own block.

"I feel that we have been very fortunate that none of our children have been hurt on Halloween," Mayor Saszyk said. "I think that one thing parents could do would be to get together and have block parties for the kids living in their block on Halloween. I think if the children stay within their own block they will get plenty of candy."

The council voted to lease from Clifton Bailey, now living in Arkansas, two lots across the street from Dunbar school for $100 a year. The city intends to clear the lots and put in playground equipment.

Christ Paschke, supervisor of Venice township, told the council that the township would share the cost of the playground equipment.

Mrs. Nancy Bailey, 91, dies

Mrs. Nancy Clarinda Bailey, 91, of 2334 Winters Drive, died at 11:30 p.m. Sunday at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, where she had been a patient the past year.

Mrs. Bailey was born in Eminence, Mo., and had lived in Rolla, Mo., prior to moving to Granite City two years ago. Her husband, James A. Bailey, died in 1963.

Mrs. Bailey is survived by 32 living descendants, including three daughters, Mrs. Leona Spanberger of Granite City, Mrs. Howard (Reva) Elliott of Murphysboro, Ill., and Mrs. Effie Horner of Rolla, Mo.; three sons, George Bailey of Cahokia and Leonard and Bill Bailey, both of Eminence, Mo.; one sister, Mrs. Nell Bartlett of Rolla; 22 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren and 13 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will take place in Rolla. Details are given in the obituary column.

Air hearing on Tuesday

A public hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the SIUE University Center will deal with proposed designation of an East St. Louis Air Quality Maintenance Area including the Quad-Cities, Alton area, Edwardsville, Collinsville and parts of St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency has ordered states to designate areas where, due to present air quality or expected growth, national air quality standards might be exceeded during 1975-80.

Illinois tentatively has designated Chicago, Peoria, Decatur and this region.

Powers related to such areas could include exclusion of new industry and homes, limitation of commercial centers and related traffic, and accelerated regulation of manufacturing activity.

275 attend fire dance

About 275 persons attended Friday night's Granite City Firemen's Ball for a social evening and dancing to the music of the Bill Berutti Combo at the Collinsville Park Ballroom.

Firemen estimate the event raised about $200 for the firemen and their families in times of disaster, severe injury or death.

The dance was the 19th annual event of the local fire department. Among those attending were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Aldermen Gerald Parnley, Earl Baker and Ronald Coleman, Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, Police Commissioners Elmer Stille and George Becker and Madison County Sheriff John Maeras.

2 hurt, driver arrested in traffic mishap

Harold Barnett, 22, of 2122 Adams St., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cut to the inside of his upper lip and a laceration on his forehead, both 2 a.m. following an auto accident. Bill Gillispie, 50, of 2049 State St., a passenger in the Barnett auto, was treated for a bruise to the forehead. Both were released.

Barnett was charged with careless driving, possession of alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle and failure to give information after striking a motor vehicle at 1:45 a.m. Friday.

Barnett allegedly struck parked cars on Ewing street belonging to James Ammable, 1836 Second St.; Alfred E. Woodward, 1654 Third St.; and Robert Jones, 1646 Fourth St., all of Madison. The cars were parked along Ewing avenue near their owners' homes.

Barnett was arrested at the intersection of Fifth and Ewing streets.

He was pending on $50 cash bond released court action.

Two injured in Madison today

Two drivers were injured when an auto and a truck collided at 12th Street and Madison Avenue at 8:40 a.m. today.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Lynn Wilson, 104 Central Lane, driver of a light-colored auto, and Robert P. Zewski Jr., St. Louis, driver of a northbound Haws Bakery delivery van.

After impact, the delivery van crashed into the front concrete wall of Chris Kaye Plastic Manufacturing Co., 1200 Madison Ave., causing minor damage to the building.

Air advantage to South but homecoming game goes to Kahoks

It was too much Lonnie Giddings and Mike Ashmann as the Collinsville Kahoks gained a 28-6 victory over the GCHS South Warriors in the 1974 South homecoming football game here Friday night.

Fullback Giddings scored three touchdowns and picked up 165 yards in running plays, while Halfback Ashmann was held out of the end zone but gained 140 yards during the contest.

The game left the Warriors trailing in the Southwestern Conference with an 0-4 record and Collinsville with a 3-1 mark.

Front-running East St. Louis is 4-0 after blasting Edwardsville 42-7.

Next in the standings are Collinsville and Belleville East, each with three wins and one loss. The East High Lancers stopped Alton 20-3.

Teams with 2-2 records are Edwardsville, loser to the first-place Flyers, and Belleville West, 22-0 conqueror of Cahokia.

Alton and Cahokia at 1-3 are a game ahead of GCHS South.

South received the opening kickoff but, on third down, a pass by Quarterback Kirk Champion hit Linebacker Tim Bugger's helmet, deflecting to teammate Doug Jacobs at the Warrior five-yard line. The aerial had been thrown under pressure, the signal-caller being forced out of the pocket and to the left.

On second down, Giddings ran from the five into the end zone. John Meacham's kick, the first of his four successful placements, gave Collinsville a 7-0 lead.

In the same period, Giddings took the ball on his own 46 and broke free for a long TD run and a 14-0 advantage.

South High scored in the second quarter, the Warrior drive ending successfully with a 49-yard touchdown-run by Tom Schooley. A conversion run failed, and the Warriors trailed 14-6.

Kahok Quarterback Lou Greer quickly increased the lead with an 18-yard pass to Pat Lackey, who went to his knees to grab the ball.

Not content with the 21-6 edge, Collinsville came right back with a TD drive capped by Giddings' 39-yard run.

There was no further scoring in the first half, and no points at all went up on the scoreboard in the second half, but the Warriors were constantly "knocking on the door."

The South team advanced to within three, five and nine yards of the enemy goal in different drives but was kept out of TD territory on each of the three occasions.

In addition to the one Warrior pass intercepted, South lost possession on two fumbles while itself recovering one Kahok fumble.

Champion connected on eight of 17 passes for 107 yards to Collinsville's three of six for 35 yards. The Kahoks ran for 310 yards to South's 136 yards and had a 14-9 edge in first downs.

The Warriors will be at home to Alton at 8 p.m. Friday, with a chance to tie that team in the league standings.

Running sparks first Madison football win, 24-14 over Dupo

The Madison High School football Trojans displayed poise and pride Saturday afternoon, defeating the Dupo Tigers 24-14 on the MHS gridiron to record their first victory of the season after five losses.

Hampered by injuries that affected both their offense and defense, the Trojans nevertheless scored early and often against Dupo.

Ability to move the football on the ground proved decisive, and those spearheading the rushing included Halfback Joe Young and Fullback Mike Stanley.

Between them, they tallied 23 of their team's 24 points.

Madison began the scoring early in the first quarter with a 66-yard drive as Young chucked up a 63-yard touchdown run down the left sideline. Stanley's run for the extra points made the score 6-0.

Repeating with another TD drive, the Trojans hit paydirt on an 80-yard march as Stanley carried up the middle and into the end zone from the Tiger 32-yard line. A two-point conversion run by Young provided a 16-0 lead.

Dupo fought back in the initial period with a 61-yard march climaxed with an 11-yard TD run by Jim Farmer.

Farmer then took a pass from Chris Christwell for the points after touchdown, cutting the visitors' deficit to 16-8.

In the second quarter, the Tigers put together another scoring drive, totaling 67 yards. Steve Stahl taking it across from two yards out.

Dupo chose a two-point play in the hope of tying the score, but the Madison defense stopped a run by Mike Watkins and the Trojans remained ahead, 16-14.

After a scoreless third period, the Green and White put the icing on the cake with another touchdown. A 30-yard scamper by Young did the trick, and Quarterback Mike Woods pitched a pass to Darryl Franklin for the final two points of the game. The drive carried 70 yards.

There were many heroes on the Madison squad.

The Trojans led Dupo in tackles, 46-35, with Leroy Booker getting nine, Franklin seven, Dalfred Haynes six, Stanley four and Kevin Ditch and Dwight Chittars, three each.

Madison led the Tigers in rushing yardage, 264-192, Young picking up 130 yards on 12 carries, Stanley moving 111 yards in 14 runs and Chittars adding 16 yards. Farmer's 113 yards paced Dupo.

Woods completed one of four passes for 36 yards, to Franklin, while Christwell connected on six of 16 aerials for 48 yards.

The Tigers led 9-6 in first downs and intercepted twice to Madison's lone interception. The Trojans lost two fumbles to the Tigers and were penalized 85 yards to Dupo's 15 yards.

Madison will visit Assumption at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

North kickers beat Cahokia in shutout

The Granite City High School North soccer Stealers improved their record to 13-2, with Cahokia being the latest victim, in a 3-0 game at North Thursday afternoon.

Harvey Breckner scored all three Stealer goals, two in the first half.

At 20 minutes into the game, Dave Hutscher passed to Breckner for a score and two minutes later Dan Sedej made a pass which Breckner booted in.

One minute into the second half, Dave Wolf assisted for Breckner's final goal. North outshot Cahokia 11-4 in shots on goal.

The Stealer junior varsity squad also was victorious over Cahokia, winning 2-0 on goals by Eric Painter and Marty Dooley.

Ninth consecutive South soccer win

The Granite City High School South soccer Warriors earned their ninth consecutive victory Thursday here against St. Paul of Highland, winning 6-0.

The nine victories brought the squad from a 2-2-1 record of wins, losses and ties to an impressive 11-2-1 record.

Tono Valencia and Charlie Benington split the scoring with three goals each. Dave Sheridan was credited with two assists.

The St. Paul goalie was pounded throughout the game as South took 26 shots on goal while allowing St. Paul only one.

The Warriors also led in corner kicks 4 to 2. St. Paul was called on 12 fouls and South committed seven. Eleven saves were credited to St. Paul while South had none.

Rally by Midget eleven succeeds

The Midget North boys' grid team of the Granite City Little Rascal Club overcame an 8-2 halftime deficit at Fairview Heights Sunday to defeat the host squad 14-8.

The victory gave the Midgets sole possession of first place with a 6-0 record.

The Junior Pee Wees are also without a loss, in their division, after defeating the Belleville Devils 18-0 Saturday at Belleville.

Granite City's Pee Wee team scored a 20-0 win at Scott Air Force Base Sunday and is now 4-2 on the season.

Posting the only loss of the weekend was Midget Central, which lost 32-6 to Belleville at the South Field Sunday.

South harrier team is third

Granite City South earned a third place finish with 130 points Friday at the Waterloo Invitational cross-country meet. East St. Louis won with an 89, Highland had 105 and GCHS North earned 287 points for ninth place.

Warrior Dwayne Terry finished second individually with a time of 14 minutes and 52 seconds around the 2.8-mile course at Waterloo's Kanawick Park. Steeler Dave Futch finished 14th.

Sophomore Randy Presswood ran the same distance for third place in the sophomore meet.

His effort helped South to a second-place finish with 46 points. Marissa was the victor with 44.

Curtis, Warrior freshmen prevail

The freshmen Warriors of Granite City South defeated Edwardsville 30-4 Thursday in a grid contest at Tiger Field. Cliff Moran ran 25 yards for the first TD; Bob Curtis dashed for TD runs of 15, four and one yards; and Mike Forshee hit Jay Heubner and Tony Elliott with two-point conversion passes.

BAC's victory came on four goals by Bobby Galvan and one by Dennis Jones, both are former Granite City High School soccer standouts.

GCHS North's Larry Petri saved six of the Tritons' 14 shots from entering the net. BAC had 28 shots on goal. The Dutchmen are now 4-3-1.

Galvan gets four Dutchman goals

The Dutchmen soccer team of Belleville Area College on Friday defeated Triton College, defending junior college state champion, 5-1 at Chicago before losing 2-0 Saturday to DuPage College.

BAC's victory came on four goals by Bobby Galvan and one by Dennis Jones, both are former Granite City High School soccer standouts.

GCHS North's Larry Petri saved six of the Tritons' 14 shots from entering the net. BAC had 28 shots on goal. The Dutchmen are now 4-3-1.

Football Steelers encounter frustrations but triumph, 14-11

"You've got to have heart."

Granite City High School North gridders showed stamina and courage as well as skill Saturday afternoon at Assumption as they rallied to gain a 14-11 victory.

It was the sixth successive triumph for the undefeated Steelers, who have a good chance to contend for the state championship among Class 4A schools (next-to-largest enrollment).

On his way to a fabulous 182 yards through the air, Quarterback Gene Logas put North on the scoreboard first with a three-yard touchdown run in the first period following an 81-yard drive.

The eight-play TD march was aided by an offside penalty but also included a 46-yard aerial, reaching the Pioneer 30, and a seven-yard pass, both to Larry Schleicher. Mike Doneff, Lenny Wright and Al Sunderlik also aided the drive.

The quarterback sneak provided the game's first six points and Wright's placement kick gave the Steelers a 7-0 lead.

North's task was complicated by the presence in the East St. Louis area parochial high school's lineup of Jerome Heavens, a potential All-American.

The 205-pound senior running back, leading scorer in this reception, intercepted a pass at his team's 20-yard-line in the second quarter and sprinted 80 yards for a TD.

The Steelers used a two-point conversion play to take an 8-7 lead. Heavens, running the football across.

North tried immediately to regain the lead, showing ability to control the ball as it powered its way from its own 20 to the enemy seven.

A fumble after a pass reception thwarted the drive, Assumption's Rob Hopkins recovering on the 11 as Hopkins arrived.

Heavens again put points on the board in the third period.

When a Pioneer advance began to bog down, Heavens kicked a 39-yard field goal for three points and an 11-7 score.

He now has 85 points for the season even though his team has only one win and one tie in six games.

Earlier in the third period, North had driven to the one-yard-line but was unable to run it across.

In the fourth quarter, the Steelers showed their fortitude, fighting back for a long drive that began on their own 15-yard line.

Logas connected with short passes to David Kwiatkowski, Jim Woodward and John Scott, and the Steeler quarterback then threw to Schleicher for a 65-yard touchdown pass play.

A kick by Wright made the score 14-11.

Although Heavens was able to score all of his team's points, he was limited by the North defense to 25 yards in rushing plays, plus the long interception runback.

North led in first downs 17-7, yards rushing 153-14 and yards passing 182-84.

Logas hit 11 of 13 passes to Assumption's four of 14. Each team had two passes intercepted, and North lost two fumbles.

Schleicher played despite illness and sparked on both offense and defense along with many of his teammates.

The still unbeaten Steelers will be on the road Friday, playing at Bethalto at 7:30 p.m.

1967 Packer football at Camelot Sunday

A 1967 Green Bay Packer football, personally autographed by the Packer team that won the Super Bowl that year, will be auctioned as a sports fan at the joint Optimist-Rotary Camelot auction Sunday at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Optimist Gene Sternberg, co-chairman of the project, called attention of Optimist Club members at their Thursday noon meeting in the YMCA, to the fact there still are a few tickets left. Anyone wishing tickets should purchase them now as a sellout crowd is expected.

Camelot tickets are $11 each and include a grand buffet dinner beginning at 7 p.m.

The auction will start after the dinner at 8 p.m. and an item a minute will be sold until midnight.

Some of the hundreds of items ranging in price from just a few dollars to thousands, in addition to the Green Bay Packer football, will include a people-powered vehicle, a parking meter lamp, a swim party at the YMCA, a new and used car, two free balloon rides, antique clocks, deep sea fishing equipment, color televisions, several watches and jewelry items, car and home services, clothing and almost anything else a person can think of.

During the luncheon, Vince Bommarito, who with his brother Tony owns and operates Tony's and Anthony's, St. Louis restaurants, spoke briefly on "Downtowning in St. Louis." Bommarito then served the club his famed frozen dessert, chocolate ice cream pie.

Soccer Warriors take tenth in row

Warrior Charlie Bennington tallied goals number 24 and 25 Saturday in leading the Granite City South soccer squad to its tenth consecutive victory with a 4-0 blanking of host Jackson-

The senior kicker needs just three more to tie the school record of 28 set in one season by an individual player.

Dave Sheridan, assisted by Mike Becherer, added a goal, as did Dave Baumann with an assist from Bennington.

The senior athlete scored first with a power kick from 14 yards out and then outran the defense to push the ball into the corner of the net.

Goalies Marc Mason and

Keith Kibort shared honors for the shutout, each making two saves.

South had 11 shots on goal to Jacksonville's ten and three corner kicks to the hosts' four. The Warriors had the least fouls, 5-6.

"I'm pleased," said South mentor Gene Baker, "with the fine performance of our players."

"We are using five freshmen an awful lot," he added, "so that has us pitting 11-13-year-olds against schools with 17-18-year-old players."

GCHS South now is 12-1-1 on the season and undefeated (3-0) in Southwestern Conference play.

while Peoria's net tender held the score down with nine saves.

The Steelers scored six times in the first half and again in the second half before Coach Bob Kehoe cleared the bench to give his second string players game experience.

First half goals were by Dave Robertson assisted by Dave Hatcher; Greg Ely assisted by Dan Sedej; Breckner (kicked the ball across the mouth of the net and Peoria mis-kicked in attempting to clear the ball, sending it into the net); Ely assisted by Sedej; Robertson assisted by Breckner; and Perry Hartwick, assisted by Joe Uram.

Breckner scored on an assist by Robertson to open second-half competition before Coach Kehoe sent his more inexperienced players into the game.

Fourteen minutes into the half, Kevin Gavlick, nursing a sore shoulder from a previous injury, dribbled the ball into the enemy's penalty area and powered it past the goalkeeper.

14th soccer win by Steeler team, 8-1

Granite City North soccer fans like their football counterparts — have the fever as the Steelers defeated Peoria Central 8-1 at Steeler Field Saturday, boosting North's record to 14-2. The contest marked the second time this season North has defeated Peoria.

North outshot the visitors 19-3 and both were even on corner kicks with one apiece. Peoria committed one less foul than North's four.

North goalie Rick Demaree was credited with one save

Gresco wins golf district

Warrior golfer Don Gresco, a senior at Granite City South, on Friday claimed individual honors as he topped 106 other players competing in this season's Illinois High School Association golf district meet at Wood River.

Gresco shot a four-over-par 76 on the 6,700-yard Belk Park course at Wood River. Edwardsville topped defending district champion Alton 322-338. GCHS South was third with a team total of 338.

All three teams, and the top three from the Belleville West district meet, along with the top five individual players, qualify for this Friday's sectional at the Arlington Golf Course.

South's overall effort was aided by a pair of 89s fired by Craig Bailey and Jay Fedora. The Warrior Jim Kafka then tied the third-place finish over Highland's total of 340 by scoring 85 in a clutch effort.

Warrior golfer mentor Pat Schuman noted that Gresco shoots well under pressure and is among the favorites to qualify for the state finals.

"He not only has his game down to a fine art," said Schuman, "but he also has a calm attitude and controls his emotions well, which is a 'must' to score well in the sport."

Doubles victories

The Granite City High School North girls' tennis team put together three doubles victories, but was overcome in singles matches at Wood River Thursday afternoon. Wood River won the event 5-3.

Joey Pierson and Tina Taylor won their doubles match 4-6, 6-3. Patty Hatcher and Jan Rose won 7-5 and 6-0, the second set on a forfeit as a member of the Wood River team was injured in a fall.

Carolyn Goldasich and Margie Verschyl gave North its other two doubles wins 6-1, 6-1. Margie Cooke and Jackie Sigite lost in doubles 7-5, 3-6, 2-6.

Singles players losing were: Hommert, 6-1, 6-3; Kim Turner, 6-4, 6-1; Mary Bequette, 6-0, 6-0, and Crystal Andrews, 6-0, 6-0.

Roadway on private property

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night emphasized that a 200-foot roadway from the south end of Quiet Valley to Highway 111 does not belong to the village and that street crews can not repair chukholes in the road.

Responding to a complaint during the regular village board meeting, Trustee Dean Rochester explained the property is owned by Central Baptist Church and the church does not wish to donate or sell the right-of-way to the village.

Rochester explained the church has been allowing Quiet Valley residents to drive through the property, but could close the access at any time it desired.

"We would like to have an access through there and the fire department would like to have access through there, but our attorney advises us this is private property," the trustee continued.

"This board and past boards have tried to maintain (the roadway) for years, but their attorney tells us we can not do this. Our attorney says the property must be used as a roadway for 15 years by the public before it can become a public access."

Rochester said he has discussed the question with church officials on several occasions and has been told the church has tentative plans to build in that area and does not wish to give up the property.

Floyd David Moss, president of the village board, told the residents that the developer constructed the subdivision with only one access, Marigold Drive, on the north end. Residents of the south end have used the church property to access the village and, through to Highway 111.

Rochester advised the citizens present to form a delegation and said he would join the delegation in a meeting with church officials. Rochester said the church always has been friendly to the village and may work with the residents to help solve their problem.

"There is no way you would win in court. You would lose there," the trustee said when questioned on the possibility of condemnation.

Rochester commended the village's street department on a good job in preparing the village streets for winter.

He commented, "The (Nameko) Township has often criticized our road maintenance. I suggest we invite the township (officials) to see our roads and then we would like to have the same opportunity to see theirs' some time."

It was noted that the village put more gravel on the roads in previous years and that they packed the roads with a roller.

Rochester also noted the street workers were hampered during street repairs by parked cars in the streets, despite notices given to the homeowners to remove their autos.

The trustee recommended the board have the village's attorney prepare an ordinance which would allow the village to low parked cars at the owners' expense during street repairs, provided sufficient notice has been given to move the vehicles.

The board approved Rochester's recommendation. The village's street lighting committee recommended new lights at four locations which were approved by the board.

New lights are to be placed at 4008 and 4020 Glasgow Walk, in the middle of Tully Avenue and at the western loop of Sunflower Court.

On a motion by Rochester, the board also voted to assume the cost of lighting the new Lions Club park and playground in the Lakeview Estates subdivision, along Highway 111.

"It is very expensive to this club and the village benefits because the lights also light a large area of Lakeview Estates, which is a service to the community," Rochester stated.

After the board voted to pay the electric bill and use the existing lights, Rochester said the vote "shows the board's support for any group assisting recreation in the village."

The board members approved bills except one to Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab, consulting engineers of Granite City, indicating they felt the engineering contract calls for less work which has not been done on a drainage ditch between Victoria and Fontainebleau drives.

A letter notifying the board that Central Hardware had taken over the Schermer X-L Hardware building in the village was read. Central offered to continue to provide credit to the village.

Rochester said that unauthorized persons purchased items at the Schermer hardware and charged them to the village.

The board voted to conduct future business with the Pontoon Hardware store and to give store officials a list of the persons authorized to make purchases.

BUILDING TOOLS GONE
A platform dolly holding an acetylene torch, hose, air tank and gas was stolen from a vacant building at the Crossroads Shopping Center, it was reported at 9:10 a.m. Friday by a foreman for the G. H. Sternberg and Co. general contractors. Also taken in the burglary were two electric drills and an electric rotohammer.

Amvets Auxiliary aids veterans

Two new members were added to the roster of Amvets Post 51 at a meeting last week at the Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Welcomed into the unit by Commander Earl Smith were Lawrence Day of Pontoon Beach and Jackie Lockard of Highland.

A masquerade party at 7 p.m. Oct. 31 was planned for members and their families, with all participants being asked to attend in costume and compete for prizes.

A winner and a runner-up were named. The winner was the evening, Smith said.

The winner of the contest was Shirley Lebowitz, who was named as the post's turkey shoos which are conducted every year.

Proceeds from the public shoos are designated for charitable purposes of the veterans' organization.

Bay View tours library

A conducted tour of the Mercantile Library in St. Louis was taken by members of the Granite City Bay View Club on Thursday afternoon in lieu of their regular meeting.

Frohardt open house Tuesday

Frohardt PTA will hold its first skating party of the season from 6 to 8 p.m. today at the Stardust Skate Center. Cost of the session will be $1.25 per person and includes skate rental charge, according to Mrs. Joyce Toussaint, president.

The annual "Open House" at Frohardt School will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday. Classroom will be open from 7 to 8 p.m. only. Mrs. Toussaint said, with refreshments being served, the evening will be a special grade room mothers' throughout the evening.

A special meeting of the PTA executive board is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Toussaint to make arrangements for the "Fun Fair" on Friday, Nov. 8, at Frohardt School.

A pre-wedding party was given last week for Miss Diane Greer, who will become the bride of Ken Simon on Oct. 26 at the Third Baptist Church.

The shower was hosted by Mrs. Judy Simon and Mrs. Karen Simon, sisters-in-law of the prospective bridegroom, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Simon, 4047 Stearns Ave.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The book is a true story of a woman possessed of 16 separate personalities. Mrs. Beatty explained.

Mrs. Alice Hunsinger, president, presided at the business session and distributed program booklets. Each member responded to roll call by discussing her summer activities.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses to those mentioned and to Mesdames Marguerite Lexow, Sharon Loftus, Helen Matson, Shirley Rapoff, Clova Taylor and Marge O'Neill.

Mrs. Lexow will entertain the members at the November meeting.

Carmen Wrights mark 25th year

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen "Tex" (Kay) Wright, 707F Meadowlane Drive, were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a dinner party given by their children at a St. Louis restaurant.

Hosting the affair were Air Force sergeant and Mrs. Allen (Phyllis) Wright and daughter, Kellie Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Cheryl) Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall (Patti) Wright.

Sgt. Wright and his family are here on a 30-day leave. They will depart in 10 days for Holland, where the serviceman is stationed.

Mrs. Angie Hartman hosts club meeting

Mrs. Angie Hartman, 2300 State St., entertained her buxco club women through the facility, explaining the various departments.

Upon returning to Granite City, a dessert luncheon was served by Mrs. Pauletta Mueller and Mrs. Helen Krummel at the latter's home, 2315 State St.

Others attending were Mesdames Milton Allen, E. M. Arvitz, Art Buene, R. Chapman, Herman Huxel, Harold Jansen, Russell John, Keith Kline, Lawrence McCauley, Dale Rea, James Stuart and Misses Beatrice Cooley, Lily Dold and Frances Lynch.

The Oct. 24 meeting will be held at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ. Mrs. Arvitz will serve as hostess.

two more days, we could have done it" and forced an election. Residents of her neighborhood are among those who decided to fight the new jail, as a means of dramatizing their dissatisfaction with the extent of law enforcement services provided in such unincorporated areas.

A 20-year general obligation bond issue to finance a new jail was authorized by the County Board Sept. 10. Deadline for inclusion of the plan in the Nov. 5 election was later determined to be Aug. 19.

The signatures that were obtained, for a later special election, are being filed to protest the board's affirms vote on the jail resolution, Mrs. Fensterman said. She called for increased future attention to citizens' welfare.

"If people would talk to the board members as they have to me during the petition campaign, it could create the biggest reform movement in history. Voters are paying the board members to represent them, not just Edwardsville businessmen."

Businessmen are conducting a fund drive to buy land for the new jail in downtown Edwardsville.

Mrs. Beatty reviews 'Sybil'

"Sybil" by Flora Rheta Schreiber was reviewed by Mrs. Jeanne Beatty at last week's meeting of the Junior Bay View Reading Club.

The book is a true story of a woman possessed of 16 separate personalities. Mrs. Beatty explained.

Mrs. Alice Hunsinger, president, presided at the business session and distributed program booklets. Each member responded to roll call by discussing her summer activities.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses to those mentioned and to Mesdames Marguerite Lexow, Sharon Loftus, Helen Matson, Shirley Rapoff, Clova Taylor and Marge O'Neill.

Mrs. Lexow will entertain the members at the November meeting.

Madison club plans party with Santa

Mrs. Shirley Clark, president of the Madison Junior Service Club, hosted the group's October board meeting last week in her home.

The main topic of discussion was the "Christmas with Santa" party sponsored annually by the group.

Mrs. Clark served a luncheon of Mesdames Janet Schultz, Carol Childers, Fannie Fisk, Rita Barnhart, Julia Voloski, Dorothy Smith, Shirley Dosa, Maryann Kamecki and Shirley Boelling. The next board meeting will be on Nov. 5.

Raymond Tevis, Granite City librarian was the guest speaker at the Breakfast Kiwanis club meeting Thursday morning in Charlie's Restaurant.

Tevis outlined library improvements in service and facilities he hopes can be accomplished.

He said the library board currently is looking for a reference librarian to give on-the-spot help to patrons.

He pointed out that renovation of the building is needed and that the third floor attic could be used for a Granite City history room and a community room by local organizations. A historical association will be formed to collect and preserve local documents.

The storage space for magazines and newspapers could be greatly reduced if the library could convert to microfilm.

In time, Tevis reported, a branch library will be built on the six acres of land owned by the library in Meadow Lark Estates.

Burglary charged

Waldo "Butch" Mathenia, 24, of 4704 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested at his home at 4:25 p.m. Thursday and was charged with burglary. He was released on $7,000 recognizance bond.

Mathenia and Ronnie Joe Pruitt, 21, of 49 Parktowne West, have been charged with burglarizing Brewer Motor Co., 2163 Madison Ave., July 14, when they stole a cash box and cash from the trunk of a display auto.

Guests at the meeting were Anthony Johnson, Richard Sues and Tommy Lane.

The group will meet jointly with the Evening Kiwanis club next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Charlie's Restaurant for a ladies' night and installation of officers.

High School Association legislative sessions slated

The annual regular meetings of the IHSA Legislative Commission, set for Nov. 4 and Nov. 18 in the new Association headquarters building in Bloomington, have the potential to be two of the most dramatic and productive meetings in the long history of the IHSA.

In addition to the regular business of determining what proposals for change in the constitution and bylaws should go on the ballot for the annual fall referendum, the legislative commission will be engaged thoroughly in the work of redefinition of the constitution and bylaws.

For only the third time in the history of the IHSA, rules and regulations governing the conduct of Illinois interscholastic activities will be comprehensively scrutinized at one time by the persons elected from within the organization to assume these responsibilities. Last redefinition took place in 1960, and the results of that effort, reviewed annually in terms of specific modifications, have stood until the present. Object of the current effort is two-fold.

1) It is intended to provide a revised organizational structure to the Constitution and Bylaws, thereby clarifying references and allowing these documents to be more practical in today's interscholastic environment; and

2) It is intended to provide opportunity for re-evaluation of rules and practices which may be no longer necessary, or may be unreasonable or unworkable in today's interscholastic environment.

Donald H. Trimble, principal, Richton Park (Rich South) High School, is serving as chairman of the commission. Dr. Nicholas T. Mannos, principal, Skokie (Niles West) High School, is vice chairman. Both were elected at last fall's meeting.

Groundwork for redefinition of the Constitution and Bylaws was laid at the Aug. 24, 1974, meeting of the IHSA board of directors, when it approved a tentative procedure for the work, based on a meeting of Board President James Brim, principal, Concord (Tropia) High School, Trimble and members of the executive staff.

Members of the legislative commission and board will become members of smaller committees assigned with the responsibilities of examining the bylaws in the following areas: 1) general bylaws - individual; 2) general bylaws - school; 3) bylaws - specific sports and penalties; 4) non-athletic bylaws.

In addition, another committee is to be established to examine the constitution, and a final committee will be formed in the role of an editorial committee.

The regular work of the Legislative Commission, however, will continue in the usual manner. At the first meeting, it will give consideration to all proposals to amend the constitution and bylaws submitted to the executive secretary on or before Oct. 15.

The session on Nov. 4 will consist of the commission sitting as a committee of the whole. Suggestions and counsel from member principals and representatives of interested groups who wish to speak in favor of or in opposition to any proposed amendment will be received.

At his or her own expense, any high school principal, or any representative or committee not exceeding three members from any statewide organization of teachers, may appear before the commission to promote or oppose any proposal or to counsel and advise the commission regarding any desired modification in a proposal.

At its second meeting on Nov. 18, the commission will sit in executive session and will review each proposed amendment to the constitution within ten days after the second regular meeting of the commission; the vote will be conducted by means of a mail ballot.

Cancer funds set new record

Thad Carter, American Cancer Society Crusade chairman, has announced that the Madison County unit has completed another successful year of fund raising.

As of the end of the fiscal year, which was Aug. 31, the unit had raised $67,201 for the society's three-fold program of research, service and education.

This figure tops all prior years. Carter attributed this success to the continually increasing amount of interest that people are showing in the fight against cancer. Carter said he wished to thank everyone who helped make this success possible.

Funds raised in the Quad-City area included Granite City, $6,260; Madison, $1,208; and Venice, $660.

Cub Scouts compete in physical fitness meet

Approximately 200 scouts, parents, and friends watched 53 pack champions compete for the Cahokia Mound Council Cub Scout physical fitness championship at SIUE Intramural Field.

The championship consisted of five events in 8, 9, and 10-year-old divisions.

The events were modified sit-ups, modified push-ups, standing broad jump, softball throw, and 50 yard dash. Each participant received a participation ribbon, and each event winner received a first place ribbon. All boys were judged individually, and the boy in each age division with the highest total of points for all five events, received a trophy and proclaimed as the council winning team.

Their scores will be sent into the regional competition. The top 8, 9, and 10-year-old scores will be judged as the National Champions. There will be no regional or national championship due to lack of financial backing.

The council winning team is Gary Glasser, 8, of Pack 33 Edwardsville, 456 points; Paul Schmelzel, 9, of Pack 27 Edwardsville, 474 points; and David Kettelhut, 10, of Pack 7 Granite City, 534 points.

Event winners are: 50 yard dash - Gary Glasser, 8, of Pack 33 Edwardsville; Paul Schmelzel, 9, of Pack 27 Edwardsville; Donald Miller, 10, of Pack 8 Granite City.

Push-ups - Richard Janock, 8, of Pack 43 Highland; Eric Holtzsch, 9, of Pack 39 Collinsville; Gene Polman, 10, of Pack 109 Granite City.

Standing broad jump - Jim

Ballentyne, 8, of Pack 29 Edwardsville; Ray Good Jr., 9, of Pack 432 Highland; David Kettelhut, 10, of Pack 7 Granite City.

Sit-ups - Andy Anderson, 8, of Pack 63 Highland; Lonnie Clayton, 9, of Pack 29 Edwardsville; Gene Polman, 10, of Pack 109 Granite City.

Softball throw - Richard Janock, 8, of Pack 43 Highland; Rick Branding, 9, of Pack 46 Granite City; Bill Metzger, 10, of Pack 39 Collinsville.

The guest speaker was Gordon Peterson, assistant wrestling coach at SIUE. He spoke to the boys about "The Importance of Physical Fitness and How It Will Help in the Future."

Presenting the awards were Jim Greenwald of the Minnesota Twins and Pat Peterson of the New York Yankees. Both are students at SIUE and have signed with these clubs.

About 50 Scouters from Uniwah, Ill., and Kickapoo Districts acted as scorekeepers, group leaders, and helped with registration and refreshments.

Judges were members of the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity of SIUE, a service Fraternity based on the ideals of Scouting.

Master of ceremonies was William Monical, council executive.

Donations from all three Districts provided the awards and refreshments. Local donations were from Henry Bass Construction Co., National Food Store, Busy Bee Bakery, Kozysaks, and Venice-Madison American Legion Post 367.

Scouters from Uniwah District were Pat Foote, Gay Misturak, Nadene Taylor, Vee Throne, Darlene Smith, Dot Cathey, Pauline Perkins, Clore Grizzard, Sandy Buford, Judy Miller, Judy Hargrove, Ted Scrum, Charles Buford, John Misturak, Richard Johnston, Gary Miller, and Pat Shable, chairman.

Music Masters plan show

A variety show, titled "Yesterday Once More" will be presented by the Modern Music Masters of Granite City High School North at 8 p.m. Thursday in the South auditorium.

Mrs. Gail Mueller, director of the show, said that Beccy Flanagan and Brian Chastain will present Irving Berlin's "A Couple of Swells" a number that Judy Garland and Fred Astaire sang in the movie Easter Parade, as one of the numbers on the program.

The Girls' chorus will demonstrate the student's view of "Schooldays" from the movie Good-bye Mr. Chips.

Kathy Evans, Dave Harrison and the chorus will pay a special tribute to Al Jolson with his famous numbers: "Rock-a-bye Your Baby With a Dixie Melody," "My Mammy," "Sonny Boy," "Toot, Toot Tootsie," and "Back in Your Own Back Yard."

Members of the Girls' chorus are Deanna Blaylock, Judy Parrish, Kim Chastain, Carolyn Lucy, Marilyn Bradley, Kim Barr, Carolyn Mihu, Donna Honnoll, Rondice Wadlow and Jane Greco.

Tickets are on sale by all members of the Modern Music Masters and will be available at the door.

'Enter Laughing' to be produced

This year's three-act play at Belleville Area College will be the uproarious slapstick comedy "Enter Laughing" by Joseph Stein, based on the novel by Carl Reiner.

"Let's not waste time on ifs, buts and maybes. 'Enter Laughing' is marvelously funny," a critic said in a review of the play that convulsed Broadway audiences for a while season, with the help of Alan Arkin, Vivian Blaine, Sylvia Sidney and Alan Mowbray.

It is the account of the riotous sojourn of a stage-struck youth who works as the delivery boy in a sewing machine factory. His parents want him to be a druggist, but as soon as he has saved enough money he enlists in a hammy, semi-professional company that will put anybody in any play for the right amount.

However, he is, as the Daily News critic reported, "a terrible, dreadful actor, and the scene of his first performance is joyously funny. It takes a good actor to act like a bad actor." He proceeds to splash through romantic scenes with the ham manager's daughter, with another fellow's date, and finally with the offed girl who was meant for him all the time.

RETRIEVE BALLOON Granite City firemen were called to the home of Alex Nagy, 1806 Venice Ave., at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday to retrieve a home-made hot-air balloon which landed on the roof. There was no damage to the house. Firemen were on the scene 20 minutes.

third fire victim died from electric shock and cardiac failure while extinguishing a power line pole fire.

Scott's office administers the program, known as the Law Enforcement Officers and Firemen Compensation Act, and is responsible for validating claims and presenting them to the Illinois Court of Claims.

The legislation (HB 2108) increasing the survivor benefits from $10,000 to $20,000 was introduced in the legislature by Rep. Thomas H. Miller (R., South Holland). Sen. Don A. Moore (R., Midlothian) sponsored the measure in the Senate.

Line of duty death benefits doubled

The families and survivors of 12 Illinois police officers and firefighters who lost their lives while performing their duties earlier this year will receive an additional $10,000 - for a total of $20,000 per family - in compensation from the State of Illinois.

Attorney General William J. Scott said that new legislation, approved in the spring session and signed into law on August 15, increases the state compensation for deaths "in the line of duty" from $10,000 to $20,000. But because the new law is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1974, 12 approved and pending claims for $10,000 will be automatically increased to $20,000 each.

Scott said the 12 victims - three firefighters and nine police officers - lost their lives between Jan. 1 this year and the time when the retroactive increase in compensation became law on Aug. 15. Eight of the victims were from the Chicago area and the other four from downstate.

They left 34 survivors, including 19 children.

Scott said that five of the slain police officers were shot to death or fatally wounded while questioning suspects or attempting to prevent holdups.

Two were killed in motor vehicle crashes while pursuing a stolen car. Another officer was struck and killed by a passing car as he stood in the street alongside a vehicle curbed for a traffic violation. Still another police officer, an investigator, died from a heart attack following a scuffle with a prisoner who had earlier attempted to escape.

Two of the firefighters lost their lives while attempting to rescue a man trapped on a raft in a flood-swollen river. The

Haberaecker directs IMPACT

H. J. Haberaecker, newly retired president of Belleville Area College, has been named executive director of the Illinois-Missouri Progressive Airport Creation Taskforce (IMPACT).

The organization of Missouri and Illinois civic, business, labor and government leaders was formed to seek immediate improvements in domestic and international commercial airline service for St. Louis, Missouri and Illinois.

A strong believer in quality education and sound school financing, he has been involved in more than $8 million worth of new school construction and never lost a bond issue election.

He gained national recognition during his career in the fields of curriculum development, human relations and adult education. His seven years as president of Belleville Area College were highlighted by expansion of the district from 450 square miles to 2,116 square miles, with the college presently serving more than 7,000 students.

Haberaecker entered service during World War II as a private and was discharged as a colonel. He served 30 months as a B-17 bomber pilot in the European and Pacific theaters. He was awarded the Air Medal three times, Distinguished Flying Cross twice, five battle stars, the Bronze Star, Presidential Unit Citation and other combat awards.

He will be honored Nov. 2 for his service as an educator and administrator, at a testimonial dinner organized by the education division of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

agree that such a day will come. Eventually we must have a new and larger airport, and we must provide for it now, while the site is available, or suffer the consequences."

Haberaecker became the first president of Belleville Area College in 1967, following five years as superintendent of Belleville Township High School District 201. He has served more than 34 years as teacher, coach and school administrator in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois.

Commercial aviation will play a key role in plans for regional economic growth and for making jobs available to our young people.

"We in St. Louis face the choice of either building the proposed airport or having no new airport at all. There is disagreement about the number of years before Lambert reaches its capacity, but surely everyone in our region can

Regional service units for Dept. of Corrections

Illinois Department of Corrections Director Allyn R. Sielaff has announced the regionalization of the agency's adult field services unit. The plan is designed to provide more effective and efficient delivery of services to incarcerated offenders and ex-offenders on parole.

Effective today, the system will be administered by Daniel W. Simons, 45, of Chicago, administrator of adult field services. Sielaff said the statewide plan will operate in four regions: Cook County and the City of Chicago, supervised by Ronald Townsend; the northern region, headed by Laron Jay Leatherman, with headquarters in Joliet; the central region, administered by George Troike with headquarters in Springfield; and the southern region, headed by Champ Brabe, Ph.D., with offices in Carbondale. All four administrators will report directly to Simons.

According to Sielaff, the regionalization program will coordinate all adult field services operations, including parole, pre-release, work release, community centers (halfway houses) and the purchase of services from public and private agencies.

Sielaff said, "This new concept in adult field services will bring together many corrections staff specialists who will work with community agencies and others to provide the most effective and comprehensive service possible to individuals serving their sentences and those under parole supervision in the free community. The regionalization process is, truly, a people-to-people service."

Returning for repeat visits to the teachers' center project will be Hans Freudenthal of the University of Utrecht, Kenneth Lovell, University of Leeds; Mrs. Doris Whitaker, Schools Council, London; and two Ontario educators, James R. MacLean and John H. Bates.

A suit seeking $25,000 from Bowland, Inc., 5050 Nameoki Road, has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court by Iris C. Evansoff.

She alleges that on Nov. 8, 1972, she was injured after slipping and falling on steps near Lanes 11 and 12 while walking to the bowling lanes.

The suit charges failure to maintain the steps in a safe condition; failure to replace treads on steps after they became worn, torn and broken; and failure to provide adequate lighting.

Short course for educators

A short course for area educators will be offered Oct. 16 and 17 at the Belleville Area Teachers' Center (BATC) of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by Kevin Collis, Australian researcher in the development of children's logical and mathematical thinking.

BATC sessions are being held at Zion Lutheran School, Belleville. The short course will begin each day at 3:30 p.m.

Collis, associate professor of education at the University of Newcastle, has just completed a year of research at the University of Nottingham in collaboration with Prof. Eric Lunzer on the cognitive processes exhibited by children.

He is the author of numerous publications dealing with research in children's approaches to mathematical thinking, concrete and formal reasoning, and a "Piagetian" viewpoint of cognitive development according to Thomas C. O'Brien, associate professor of elementary education at SIUE and director of the teachers' center project.

O'Brien said the two-session course is open to any teacher, administrator or graduate student. No advance registration is required.

All area teachers' center activities are free of charge. Funding for teachers' release time to participate in the course may be available from the Illinois Gifted Program, according to O'Brien. Requests should be made to the reimbursement director in the educator's own school district.

O'Brien said Collis is the first of a series of guests to be brought to the area by the teachers' center project for the 1974-75 school year. Other guests will include Max Bell of the mathematics department of the University of Chicago and Dr. Marion Walker of the Children's Hospital in Boston, a researcher in young children's spatial thinking.

Returning for repeat visits to the teachers' center project will be Hans Freudenthal of the University of Utrecht, Kenneth Lovell, University of Leeds; Mrs. Doris Whitaker, Schools Council, London; and two Ontario educators, James R. MacLean and John H. Bates.

more accessible, clean, well-lighted, spacious facilities designed to serve people in an atmosphere of efficiency and dignity.

Trainer said the two-session course is open to any teacher, administrator or graduate student. No advance registration is required.

Trainer made the announcement at a Chicago news conference in connection with major organizational changes designed to improve services to Cook County aid recipients.

Trainer said the new "career ladder" plan for employees will provide opportunity for advancement and appropriate compensation based on the responsibilities assigned to a position. It also will offer incentive for clerical personnel who may qualify to move into casework positions.

The career ladder plan, Trainer explained, is being implemented by the Departments of Public Aid and Personnel.

Trainer said the organizational changes in Cook County will include the opening of full service offices in neighborhood locations "so clients no longer will be required to travel from one location to another to make applications or obtain special assistance." He further commented:

"Our total program — to be implemented Jan. 6, 1975 — will completely change and improve the way the Department of Public Aid serves Cook County recipients. Gov. Dan Walker has authorized the commitment of full resources and energies to this goal because we believe it is essential to improve management of public assistance in Cook County before we can upgrade statewide public aid services."

Following are other improvements outlined by Trainer: The department will move into 10 new offices from overcrowded, totally inadequate facilities and will remodel other offices. Trainer said all will be

To upgrade aid services

Acting Public Aid Director James L. Trainer has announced plans to reclassify casework jobs in the agency and upgrade the overall pay-scale for caseworkers throughout the state.

College night at GCHS South planned Nov. 4

College Night will be held at Granite City High School South on Monday, Nov. 4. Representatives from colleges in the area will be there to discuss programs, financial aid, and other college-related subjects with students and their parents.

State universities in Illinois, public junior colleges, private liberal arts colleges and technical colleges will be represented. All high school students and their parents are invited.

Because early planning is important, freshmen and sophomores and their parents are urged to attend. Juniors and seniors needing financial assistance can get valuable information from the representatives.

Soil elements may hamper pheasants

Research at the Illinois Natural History Survey has indicated that a deficiency or excess of certain chemical elements in the soil may be preventing pheasants from extending their range southward in Illinois from the Northern and central areas of the state.

The latest findings were presented by Survey Chief

George Sprugel Jr., in a quarterly report to the Board of Natural Resources and Conservation at a meeting in Urbana. The survey is a division of the Department of Registration and Education.

William L. Anderson, survey wildlife biologist, has been studying the chemical elements and their influences on pheasant population since the 1960's. Anderson and his collaborator, University of Tennessee Trace Analyst Peggy Stewart, have reached the conclusion that an excess of barium, complicated by low levels of environmental calcium, might be adversely affecting pheasants where the range is considered poor.

Anderson said recently at a pheasant symposium that in the eastern half of the United States the range of the pheasant has been north of the 36th parallel. In the 1950's and 1960's, many thousands of pheasants were released on areas located south of this line. Except for modest success with two subspecies in Virginia, none of the introductions resulted in establishment of self-maintaining populations. Indicators of reproductive success for pheasants in release areas in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee were comparable to those of pheasants in the established range.

Body weights of the pheasants in Illinois appeared to be normal. However, mortality of pheasants on the release areas was excessive and the population failed within three to five years after introductions were discontinued.

The relationship between

recently glaciated soils and self-maintaining populations of pheasants in the Midwest suggests that lime or some other substance in these soils is essential for the welfare of pheasants.

Other essential elements that have been investigated include phosphorus, potassium, magnesium, and sodium, plus the trace elements, chromium, cobalt, copper, iron, manganese, molybdenum, and zinc. Deficiencies of these elements were not detected among pheasants in poor range in Illinois.

Graduate fellowships at SIUE

The National Fellowships Fund, with the support of the Ford Foundation, is offering graduate fellowships to black Americans who intend to pursue a career in higher education, according to Roy Peterson, assistant dean of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Graduate School.

Fellowship awards for 1975-76

will include payment of tuition and fees, a book allowance and a monthly stipend of $250, plus additional dependency allowances, if applicable. The awards are for one year, but are renewable pending satisfactory progress.

Peterson said all applicants are required to submit scores on the graduate record examination (GRE) aptitude test and one advanced test. The deadline for registration in the December GRE test is Nov. 26.

Applications for the fellowships must be requested by individual applicants from Graduate Fellowships for Black Americans. National Fellowship Fund, 785 Peachtree Street, N.E., Suite 484, Atlanta, Ga., 30308. The deadline for submission of completed applications and all supporting documents is Jan. 5, 1975. Additional information is available at the SIUE Graduate School, Peterson said.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

Last week one of our customers REALLY made our day. It was a gentleman. He came up to Avery and said, "You know Avery, it's really a pleasure to spend my money in your store." Well, you can imagine Avery's reaction. After getting over the biggest smile of the year he recovered and asked the gentleman to explain. "Well," the man said, "All of you people are so nice. It's just a pleasure to come in here." We have had many fine comments on our freezer beef. Those orders that have been processed are the ones who are telling us how good it is and how well satisfied they are. To those of you who are waiting it won't be long. We like to process these orders right and that takes time. We think that all orders in the store now will be processed by next week. We are continuing to take orders at the advertised price with the understanding that there is now a two to three week waiting time. The quality of the beef is outstanding. Now is the time to fill your freezer.

Two charged at restaurant

Two men were charged with battery following an incident at Burger Chef, 1114 Madison Ave., Madison, at 8:55 p.m. Friday, in which a security guard sustained a bruised forehead.

Charged were Gary Aaron, 19, of 2016 Fourteenth St., and Jeff Gail, 18, of 1702 Sixth St., Madison.

Pete Bono of Fairview Heights, an employee of a private security agency, said the two swore at him when asked to leave. One man allegedly grabbed Bono's weapon, with the security officer wrestling with him in an effort to retrieve his gun.

Each was released on payment of $50 cash bail.

TV, STEREO, CASH GONE

Mickey Anderson, 1035 Douglas St., Venice, reported at 3:20 a.m. Saturday that burglars stole a stereo set, four speakers, 50 eight-track tapes, a portable television set and $200 in currency from the home. Entry was gained by breaking a door window.

Trailriders' show Sunday ends season

The Trailriders Saddle Club will hold its final show of the season at 1 p.m. Sunday at the club arena on Chouteau Slough Road, near Rock Road and the Chain of Rocks Canal levee. The public is invited to attend.

Winners in last week's fun show were:

Pony pleasure and pony barrels—Pam Weldon riding Wishbone; pony poles—Don James Jr. on Nellie; haltering (stallions)—Ernie Mills on Master Heybo; haltering (geldings)—Kathy Donahue on Ricky; and haltering (mares)—Brenda Jones on Texas Frontier.

Opal Warner took top honors in both gaited country pleasure and footstopping on her horse Scott's Black Star. Ricky Miller also won two events riding Copperhead in the junior barrels and in flag race.

Other trophy recipients were: Senior bareback pleasure—Marcella Brock riding Baldy's Misty Leo; senior western pleasure—Barb Carter on Jewels Gypsy; senior barrels—Ernie Mills on Dark Girl; senior poles—Ginger Bowman on Z-Bar; junior western pleasure—Vickie Hoskins riding Double Paycheck; junior bareback pleasure—Terri Hoskins riding Dark Cloud; play race—Patty Bryarly on Rumpus Pete; and junior poles—Lorraine Leroy on Leo's 4-Step.

Nameoki Town Board Tuesday

The Nameoki Town Board meeting, scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday, had to be rescheduled due to lack of a quorum.

Auditors W. Lee Adams and Eugene Gargac, and Town Clerk Doug Teeter, were the only officials present and waited until 9:15 a.m. before agreeing to postpone the meeting.

The board will meet in special session at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall, 4250 Highway 162.

JUNIOR FASHIONS
AT MARILYN'S

EXPLANATION OF DAM REPLACEMENT proposed Thursday by William Sutton, who assisted Col. T. R. Peterson, district engineer, in presenting details of the plan, currently tied up in litigation. Citing inadequate capacity and deterioration of the existing Alton locks and dam, they discussed the proposed new dam and two 1,200-foot-long locks while at the new site two miles downstream from the existing dam. The answer still was made by Illinoisans and Missourians under arrangements made by the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Mrs. Elsie Francis dies

Mrs. Elsie M. Francis, 88, of 2509 Grand Ave., died early Saturday morning at The Colonadades nursing home, where she had been a patient the past year. She had been in ill health for several years.

Born in the rural Granite City area, Mrs. Francis was lifelong local resident. Before becoming ill she had been active in several local organizations.

Her husband, Walter Francis, who owned and operated the Francis Real Estate and Insurance Agency, died in 1961. She is survived by two sons, Terry W. Francis and Robert D. Francis, Granite City attorneys; one daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Roney of Granite City; and John C. Holst, both of Collinsville, Albert Holst of St. Louis, and William Holst of Washington, D. C.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Jane Couch of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Clara Fryd of Lorain, Ohio, and Mrs. Annie Walker of Granite City; 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Undercover agent testifies

David R. True, a special U.S. Treasury Department undercover agent, testified Friday in federal court that he posed as a fence for stolen goods to gain information on an alleged thief ring which was stealing guns, ammunition, liquor, tires, cigarettes and other items from railroad cars in the Madison railroad yards.

True took the stand on the fifth day of the Alton trial of 10 men charged in connection with the "thief ring" which was believed to have stolen and sold items worth about $1.7 million from the Terminal Railroad Association cars between 1971 and 1973.

True said he used the name Don Trotter for his undercover work and was involved in frequent meetings with gang members at three taverns in the Madison and East St. Louis areas.

He said he was introduced to William T. Ryan, 33, Collinsville, by Virgil E. Adams, of the 4800 block of Vine Ave., at a Madison tavern, and that Ryan offered him a quantity of pistol ammunition.

True alleged he purchased ammunition on several occasions from Adams. Adams has pleaded guilty to related charges and is awaiting sentencing. He is not among the 10 now on trial.

True alleged Adams referred to Ryan as "the most active thief in the railroad yards."

Willie Albert Mize, 41, Collinsville, also was pointed out in the courtroom by True with the undercover agent alleging he had been told Mize was to be the contact for any whiskey purchases. True wanted to make.

True's testimony followed allegations by two witnesses on the stand Thursday on the operations of the thief ring.

Joe H. Koen, Edwardsville, a former TRRA policeman who was freed from immunity from prosecution Wednesday, was named his testimony Thursday, admitting that he lied to a federal grand jury investigating the thief ring.

In cross-examination by Attorney Lance Callis of Granite City, Koen recalled saying Wednesday, in his original testimony, "I lied, but not a lot," to the grand jury. The court transcript recalled his saying, "I lied a lot," to the grand jury.

Koen also alleged that Mize received stolen goods taken from shipments, that William L. Evans, 25, O'Fallon, paid Koen to be the lookout in the theft of ammunition, and that the railroad employees involved in the ammunition theft included

Bernard Reid, 41, Belleville, Glenn Frederick, Caseyville, and Evans.

Alto testifying Thursday was George Timpe, 48, Cahokia, a former railroad carman, who said he saw Koen and David Nordstrom, 32, Wood River, a defendant, at a boxcar, with tires on the ground. Timpe said he and Koen carried the tires to a nearby area while Nordstrom was in the door of the boxcar.

Timpe earlier pleaded guilty to theft in connection with the investigation and also is awaiting sentencing.

Court was closed today for the Columbus Day holiday, but the trial is expected to resume tomorrow.

Secretary program at BAC

A certified professional secretary program is scheduled at Belleville Area College to be held on consecutive Mondays, beginning Nov. 4, and ending April 28, 1975. The 22 three-hour study sessions will be held at Alhaff High School, Room 207, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Students may register beginning today and continuing until Nov. 4, in the Registrar's Office, Main Campus, Room A-165. This office is open Monday through Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Friday

International center at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will spend $7,000 for furniture to equip a new International Student Center to be located in the basement of the Tosovsky Center, adjacent to the SIUE campus.

The SIUE Board of Trustees approved the expenditure at a meeting here Thursday. The money will come from the student welfare and recreational facility building trust fund.

When the former Ernest Tosovsky residence was given to the SIUE Foundation at Edwardsville, Tosovsky expressed the hope that part of the building could be used as a center for SIUE's growing foreign student population. The basement of the property has been set aside as a lounge and recreation area for that purpose.

Rob Roberts, president of the SIUE Student Body, described the International Student Center as a "tremendous step in both student welfare and international relations."

The new center will be administered by the Office of Student Affairs under Vice-President Ramon Williamson.

from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The registration fee of $32 is payable at this time.

The study program is to prepare secretaries for the Certified Professional Secretary Examination in May, 1975, and will include the following areas: accounting, business law, economics, office procedures, environmental relations, in business, management, financial analysis, and communications.

Mrs. Gail L. Foley, CPS, will be the instructor.

Residents to finance sewers

A group of residents of the Dream Villa subdivision have approved a plan to issue $40,000 worth of bonds to build sanitary sewers for their homes, and retire the bond obligation with sewer rental fees that would be collected by Granite City.

The plan will require about 20 of the homeowners to annex property to Granite City. The other 40 properties already are in the city.

The group voted in a meeting last week to sell the bonds to the First Granite City National Bank at 7 per cent interest under an arrangement with the city to build the sewers and collect the fees.

Cost of the sewer construction has been estimated at about $800 per home, unless some of the residents pay cash for their share, which would change the schedule of payments. Homeowners also would be required to pay $45 for each tap-on and $5 for each inspection fee.

Thomas Wellington, 73, dies

Thomas (Tom) Wellington, 73, of 2807 Madison Ave., a retired welder, died at 3 a.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill three months and was hospitalized for five and a half weeks.

Born in Elwood, Ind., Mr. Wellington lived in Granite City 65 years. He retired in 1969 from General Steel Industries, where he was a member of Local Union 530. He also held membership in VFW Post 1300.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Wellington; a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Lila) Brookes of Glendale, Mo.; one son, Kenneth Wellington of Northfield, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Mae Wetzel of Granite City; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

AUTO STRIKES POLE

John E. Bunk, 21, of 2123 Hildebrand Ave., Madison, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:10 a.m. Sunday with injuries suffered in a one-car accident on 19th Street, near Adams Street. Police said Bunk's eastbound auto left the roadway and struck a utility pole. He had no rays taken at the hospital before being admitted for observation.

CAR STEREO TAKEN

A car stereo, 12 tape recordings in a case and two speakers, worth more than $500, were stolen from the auto of Edward Cooper, Fairmont City, parked at Granite City High School North, it was reported at 3:55 p.m. Thursday. A window latch was broken to gain entry.

Outlook

when I arrived at Granite City, the bunk house was a recreation center.

"I remember playing ping-pong there with Mitch Milonski, who was then a patternmaker's apprentice in the wood pattern shop, where he had started with the company just the year before. I remember getting to know... and liking... and learning from Mike Milonski, Mitch's father. At that time Mike was a general foreman of the Granite City Works.

"The Milonskis represent the kind of commitment and tradition that keep our own business and many businesses like ours a competitive force in world markets. They are the real strength.

"Fathers and sons, mothers and daughters who have the skill to make things better, the imagination and wisdom to adjust to ever-changing conditions, and the determination to stick with the job.

"At many of our older facilities, we have the third and even fourth generation on our payroll. We are as proud of them as they are of us," Lanterman asserted.

"That's what I learned from the people of Granite City... skill, imagination and determination. It's a lesson well worth learning, and it refreshes me each time I come back to see the place where it all began.

"Our Granite City plant was incorporated as the American Steel Foundries Company on April 5, 1894... 80 years ago.

"Ground was broken on the 24th acre site on June 15. Our company history, 'Sand in Their Shoes,' reports that the first buildings erected were a main foundry building 300 by 80 feet and two 40-foot lean-tos.

"The foundry was equipped with two overhead cranes, both bought from the Chicago World's Fair.

"The book adds, and I quote, 'There were so few rooming facilities in the town that half the work-force lived in a hotel on the plant grounds, sleeping shifts, and thinking nothing of being called out in the middle of the night to save a heat of molten steel.'

"The mid-1890s were a depressed time. Some employees received 75 cents for a 10-hour day. Carpenters and molders took home $1.25 a day," the speaker noted.

"That contrast alone is enough to bump us up here against the reality of today's economic scene. Today, $1.25 won't get you your wife past the first shelf at the supermarket.

"There's the current story about the young man who walked into a car dealer's showroom and was taken aback by the price tag on a compact car. 'Why, that's almost the price of a big car,' he gasped. 'Well,' replied the salesman, 'if you want economy, you've got to pay for it.'

"Inflation, of course is today's biggest headache for people and for business. And this brings me to the main thrust of my remarks this evening.

"First, I want to talk about the current state of business with particular emphasis on American Steel Foundries and Amsted. Second, I would like to probe the current challenges we face such as inflation. Finally, I would like to look at the business legacy we will leave to the people—the men and women who will be sitting in these chairs 40 years from today.

"At this meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, it is appropriate to talk about business, because your destiny and the destiny of industry are closely intertwined. As industry has grown here, the Tri-Cities have grown," Lanterman said.

"The importance of industry to the welfare of the people who live here becomes dramatically apparent by merely checking some figures from our American Steel Foundries plant... a plant which is by no means the largest employer in this area.

"There are about 1,500 people who have jobs at the ASF Granite City Works, and that's approximately 300 more than a year ago.

"In our current fiscal year which just ended on Sept. 30, our employees earned approximately $15,300,000 in wages and salaries. To the modern term, that translates into a lot of bread... or a lot of food, and clothes, and cars, and entertainment, and other goods and services.

"The plant paid a substantial local real estate and personal property tax bill in 1974. These dollars go to such worthwhile civic ventures as schools, parks and municipal services.

"I'm not telling you these figures to pat ourselves on the back. It merely illustrates that the Tri-Cities area and its local industry have a partnership in the finest sense of the word. Because of this close tie, let's look at the current state of our business.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS from Suburban Baptist Church who have worked regularly for the past few years are shown unpacking boxes of clothing, sorting them and filling orders for the needy people who have placed orders with Mrs. Marie Whittle, secretary of Protestant Welfare Association.

Welfare. Left to right are Mrs. Delores Smith, Mrs. Georgette Monical and Mrs. Jean Fisher. The storehouse of used clothing is operated by the Protestant Welfare Association.

Diverse assistance, counseling by Protestant Welfare agency

Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., a non-profit organization, is one of 18 agencies that are members of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Protestant Welfare was organized as a non-profit emergency agency, and received its charter from the state Dec. 31, 1953. It is now in its 21st year of serving people of the Quad-Cities in an emergency capacity only.

Emergency assistance is provided to transients, to people until they can get an appointment with general assistance or state aid, caseworkers and to people who are waiting for their unemployment or sick benefit checks.

"We reserve the right to refer to the proper public agency cases which do not fall within the province of this emergency agency," a spokesman said today.

"During the year 1973 we handled 466 cases involving 1,433 persons. A total of 333 emergency relief orders was issued for food, rent, utilities, medicine and new shoes and clothing for school children, plus 53 Christmas grocery orders for the elderly.

"Approximately 150 orders of used clothing and shoes were given from our store room. We also received and gave away some household articles.

"We have wheel chairs, hospital beds, walkers and crutches which we lend to the public.

Thirty-two churches and three organizations belong to the Protestant Welfare Association and the ministers of the churches serve as directors for the day assigned to them.

"They counsel with the people in addition to helping them materially.

"They encourage the people to attend church, to make their own choice, and to send their children to Sunday School or, better still, to go with them. Religious training makes a better home life, and better homes make a better community," the spokesman commented.

"In September we began our fifth year of participating with Catholic Charities in the Mobile Meals program, by providing volunteer workers from the various churches and civic organizations.

"Our hospital prepares the meals for the elderly, ill and indigent people, according to the diet prescribed by their doctor, and our volunteers deliver the hot meals during the noon hour—five days a week.

"We cooperate with all local, county, state and federal agencies, including all churches, for the betterment of health, welfare and education of the Quad-City community and its people.

"It is our purpose to preserve and strengthen the home, whenever possible, so that children may reach their maturity without the frustration and fears attendant upon broken homes."

major components in railroad freight car trucks.

"This business is directly dependent on the rate of new freight car ordering," Lanterman noted.

"In our 1974 fiscal year, new freight car orders soared to more than 130,000, making it the first 100,000 car year since 1966.

"Since the freight car building rate in this country has not been cranked up to its capacity of about 80,000 cars a year, backlogs have become greatly extended.

"In fact, ASF has enough business to run the Granite City plant well into 1975.

"The same demand picture exists at all 10 of Amsted's railroad equipment plants, including those manufacturing freight car and locomotive wheels.

"We continue to look for a slackening of this order rate, but so far there has been little sign of such a slowdown," he told the gathering.

Moss to run again

Floyd David Moss, president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board, announced at Thursday night's board meeting that he will seek re-election in April.

Moss has been attempting to dispel rumors that illness may cause him to resign. He was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday and attended the village board meeting.

He told those in attendance, "The rumors that I am going to sell my house and move are false. I intend, no matter who runs against me, to run for mayor again in April."

Moss said he underwent surgery for an external problem and tests showed he did not have a tumor on his colon, as he had feared. "I underwent surgery and it was a 100 per cent success. I no longer have the problem."

"I was given a fair bill of health but will have to remain on a strict diet for a gastritis situation," Moss explained. A previous Press-Record article disclosed Moss had placed his home for sale and was a patient at the hospital, awaiting surgery. He said at that time he did not intend to move from the village and would continue to serve as village board president, if he was found in adequate health.

Restaurant owners elect

Walter Stauffer of the International House of Pancakes was elected president of the Greater Granite City Restaurant Association during a meeting at Charlie's Restaurant last week.

The group also decided on a design for a logo for members and inquiries to type and cost were authorized.

Stauffer succeeds Richard Ervay of A & W Root Beer as president of the association. Lil Burgess of Uncle Charlie's Drive-In was elected to serve another year as secretary and was given the appreciation of all the members for the job she has done.

Charles Hester was elected vice-president. Committees will be appointed by Stauffer and will be announced at the next meeting which will feature installation of officers. The event will be a dinner social at Charlie's Restaurant Wednesday, Nov. 13 with a cocktail hour from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

All members are invited to attend with their wives and husbands. All other restaurant owners and operators also are invited as guests of members of the association.

APARTMENT RANSACKED
The apartment of William Jacobson, 2117 Delmar Ave., was ransacked and several items were taken in a burglary reported at 12:05 a.m. Saturday.

Missing were a citizen's band radio, a portable television, 12-amp battery charger, 22 caliber automatic weapon and a tape deck and cassette player. Value of the items was not listed.

Style show sparks Mitchell PTA meeting; school parade planned

A fashion show with over 35 ensembles entered by area residents attracted a capacity crowd to the Mitchell Parent-Teacher-Association meeting on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Jeanne Murphy coordinated the presentation, which involved many original creations of the models.

A grand prize was awarded to Peggy Maulding for the "most attractive" long gown and hat ensemble.

First place prize winners were Mesdames Barbara Landis, Nona Fuller, Mary Whiteside and Connie Cornelison. Second place awards went to Mesdames Martha Katzman, Joann Polite, for a fashion designed by the sixth grade students; Joann Franko, Mrs. Thomas and Brenda Podner.

Prizes given to the other contestants were provided by the Nechi Sewing Center. A display of new sewing aids was furnished by the Fabric Store.

A talent show, including skills by the sixth grade pupils of Leroy Fordyce, also was part of the program.

Boy Scout Troop 41, under the leadership of Howard Baxter, scoutmaster, gave the opening flag ceremony.

Mrs. Viva Elliott, PTA president, was in charge of the business meeting. She reported a Halloween party and parade for the students at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 30.

Mitchell pupils and room mothers will wear masquerade costumes and will parade through the community led by the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department and the Granite City High School North Band.

Mrs. Whiteside, ways and means chairman, said the school magazine sales will start on Oct. 25, with only the fifth and sixth grade students participating. Parents again are being asked to save Campbell Soup labels to aid the PTA program, the chairman said.

Stallings open house Thursday

The October PTA meeting and an open house observance at Stallings School will be held jointly at 7 p.m. Thursday, Mrs. Wilma Bowen, president, has announced.

Mrs. Bowen said the business session will begin at 7 p.m. followed by tours of the classrooms by parents. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Lesche Literary hosts guest day

About 60 members and guests attended a fashion show and tea given last week by the Lesche Literary Club as its annual guest day program at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Walter Klein, president, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Frank Mercer, program chairman, narrated the show, using the theme, "Down Memory Lane."

Mrs. Clifford Nelson sang "Will You Remember," accompanied by Mrs. Harold Dorries, a former member. Background music was sung by Mesdames Walter Klein, Earl Miller, George Holzschner and Clifford Nelson.

Fashion designations and models were "Sliver of Sweet" by Mrs. Leo Monogian; "City Slickers" by Mrs. Lee Stevens; "Dream in Print" by Mrs. Bernard Miller; "Candy Stripe Dress" by Mrs. Eugene Schipper; "Rising Twenties" by Mrs. Norman Holsinger.

"Tea Bags" by Mrs. Ron Pennel; "Cocktail Dress" by Mrs. Monogian; "Height of Fashion" by Mrs. Stevens; "Old Fashioned Bathing Suit" by Mrs. Holsinger; "Holiday Gown" by Mrs. Schipper; "Tissue Dress" by Mrs. Pennel; "Evening Dress" by Mrs. Miller.

The tea table was decorated with fall flowers. Straw flower planters centering the guest tables later were used as prizes.

Others on the program committee were Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Ernest Veihl. Mrs. Kipling Pellett presided over the guest book.

The next club meeting will be Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Eugene Schipper, 820 Santa Bella, Hazelwood, Mo.

South band concert dates set

Kiril Kirchoff, president of the Granite City High School South Band Parents, announced concert dates the band will perform at a meeting last week.

The band will present concerts in the South High auditorium on Dec. 12, Jan. 23, Feb. 8, Mar. 15, April 24 and May 27. Season tickets currently are being sold by the band students for $1.50 each and may be used for two admissions to each concert.

Officers of the parents club are: Kirchoff, president; Cliff Robertson, vice-president; Mrs. Shirley DeCourcy, recording secretary; Mrs. Irene Williams, corresponding secretary; and Frank Juhasz, treasurer.

Named as chairman for the year were Mrs. Margaret Piffeld, band uniforms; Mrs. Frances Holt, flag uniform; and Mrs. Juanita Hunter, publicity.

After the business session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Gene Hill and Mrs. Mary Lou Summers.

Mrs. Mary Juhasz and Mrs. Rosemary Vizer will serve as hostesses for the Nov. 12 meeting set for 8 p.m. Parents of all band students are urged to attend, Kirchoff said.

Donna Schreiber becomes Mrs. Richard C. Stille

Miss Donna Rene Schreiber, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schreiber Sr., 1533 Twenty-sixth St., and Richard Charles Stille, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stille, 2923 Pershing Ave., were united in marriage on Sept. 27 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

White bows on the pews and arrangements of green ferns and yellow mums at the altar provided the setting for the 7 o'clock evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Daniel Flynn and the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ.

Nuptial selections were played during the service by organist, Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of embroidered rayon organza, enhanced with Venise lace. The Empire bodice featured a stand-up ruffle collar and short puff sleeves accented with a wide, sheer ruffle bordered with a satin ribbon.

Her A-line skirt was bordered with an organza flounce, sweeping backward into a chapel train.

She wore a camelot headpiece to secure her bouffant fingertip veil, edged in Venise lace and satin ribbon. The bridal bouquet was created of white roses, baby breath, stephanotis and greenery, encircled with Venise lace.

Matron of Honor Mrs. Alice Doerr, a sister of the bride, and Miss Linda Schmidt, Miss Karen Graham and Mrs. Patricia Schreiber, a sister-in-law of the bride, bridesmaids, wore identical Empire gowns in hunter green.

Their full length dresses were fashioned with square necklines and renaissance sleeves, trimmed with ivory Venise lace. The lace was repeated at the high rise waistline.

Each carried a colonial bouquet of lemon yellow carnations, brown baby breath and stephanotis, edged with green leaves and festooned with brown streamers.

The groom chose Ken McGee as his best man, John Morris, Robert Christopher and Frederick Schreiber, brothers of the bride, and David Khron, a cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at Trinity Hall in Madison following the service.

Members of the bridal party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

After a wedding trip to Rocky Ridge Ranch in Missouri, the newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

Both are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is a federal government employee. Her husband is owner and operator of Rich's Foreign Car Parts and Service Shop in Granite City.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schreiber chose a long gown in sage green worn with a matching jacket and accessories.

Mrs. Stille, mother of the groom, selected an aqua jersey frock, full length, designed with long sleeves, scoop up neckline and an Empire waist, accented with a pearly trim.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mussman, Mr. and Mrs. Milton DuCharme, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Banek and Thomas Banek, all of Florissant, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilbert of Ferguson, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krohne Sr., Rocky Ridge, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Davis, Creve Coeur, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Krohne, Edwardsville; Mr. and Mrs. James Stille and sons, James Jr. and John, of Troy, Ill.; William Ong and Robert Burns, both of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wessal and daughter, Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Don Zerkus, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckman and Robert Haselhorst, all of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. John Tranter, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Mrs. Helen Chroles, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kassell, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bryer, Gahokia, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kirby, Collinsville and John Shields and Chris Marronne of Chicago.

Fashion show to launch Business Women's Week

"Festival of Fashions" is the theme of the 1974 style show to be presented by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Fellowship Hall at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2101 Cleveland Blvd.

The show will launch "National Business and Professional Women's Week" in the Quad-Cities and is one of several special activities arranged in conjunction with the annual observance.

Ollie Raymond, KMOX-TV weatherman and host on Channel 4's video-magazine formatted program "St. Louis Illustrated," will serve as show commentator.

Fashions will be presented by 15 local merchants, ranging from the latest in children's wear to casual and formal clothing and shoes for men and women.

Jack Jenkins will provide background organ music, and refreshments will be served show patrons at intermission, according to Mrs. Rebecca Slate, general chairman, and Mrs. Lois Wetton, fashion coordinator.

Tickets, costing $1.50 each, are available in advance from club members and at participating stores, or may be purchased Sunday at the door.

The role of commentator is not new to Raymond who has hosted live network radio shows and variety entertainment. He was graduated in 1950 from the University of Texas at El Paso and hosted his first network show "Saturday at the Chase" for CBS Radio in St. Louis.

Cloverview plans projects

Mrs. John Jenkins, 2442 Lynch Ave., was hostess to members of the Cloverview Garden Club last week for a regular meeting and rummage sale. Proceeds from the project will be used to aid charitable programs of the club.

The group agreed to purchase bird feeders and seed for use at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home and to make floral arrangements each month to be placed in the home. Mrs. Robert McCauley and Mrs. Charles Gondorila will provide the October gifts.

Mrs. Joseph Ochso opened the meeting with the club collect and Mrs. William Bradley, president, was in charge of the business session. The president read a letter from District V director, Mrs. Arvid Nelson, suggesting a study of by-laws and changes to be made. Other announcements include a District V fall board meeting on Thursday at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville. Mrs. Bradley will attend. During the annual President Council Day on Oct. 24, at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Lebanon, exhibits of horticulture and artistic arrangements will be judged. Mrs. Alan Atkins of the Kinke School Ikebana will present a program on flower arranging in Japanese style.

Mrs. Richard Branding gave the afternoon program on flower arranging. Others assisting at the rummage sale and attending the meeting were Mesdames Kenneth Brokaw, George Knapp, John Lentz, Fred Orr and Leo Roman. Mrs. Bradley, 81 Morris Court, will entertain the club in November.

Anderson-Hannah nuptials

Mrs. Gae Hannah, 3236 Wayne Ave., and Charles Anderson of Granite City, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 5 o'clock Saturday evening performed by the Rev. Jack Gouy, pastor of Temple Baptist Church in Madison.

The ceremony took place in the home of the bride's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Joyce, 216 Lynch Ave. Bouquets of pink and white carnations beside a picture window background provided the setting for the service.

The bride selected a full length white organza gown over pink, accented with white lace at the V-neckline and on the cuffs of the long sheer sleeves. Her dress was fashioned with an A-line style skirt and she wore an orchid corsage.

Attending the couple were

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Anderson of Cape Girardeau, Mo. A reception for 40 guests was held in the Joyce home immediately following the ceremony.

The newly married couple will reside in Granite City. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunn of Missouri.

VISITORS FROM DETROIT ATTEND WEDDING IN GC

Mrs. Anna E. Klug and son, Ronald S. Knioff, both of Detroit, Mich., are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. David, 5188 Nameoki Road, a niece and nephew.

The out-of-town visitors were guests at the wedding on Saturday of Miss Kathleen Marie David and Alan Joseph Pieper. They will remain in this area for a short visit.

Capacity crowd views hair styles

A capacity crowd viewed the annual hair style and fashion show held last week at Tempel's Smorgasbord under sponsorship of the Elite Hairdressers Affiliate 31.

The event was part of the National Beauty Salon Week celebration. Local affiliate members also spent time last week entertaining children in the Pediatrics Ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital and presented a rocking chair to the hospital.

Mrs. June Barton, organizer, furnished background music for the show, which featured clothing from Marilyn's House of Fashions and the latest trends in hair styling and a fantasy sequence by the local beauticians.

Mrs. Brenda Cant served as general chairman, assisted by Diane Birtley, Shirley Adams and Evelyn Titchener were the commentators.

An hors d'oeuvres buffet was served to the show patrons and several prizes were distributed.

Models appearing in the show in the trend, salon and fantasy segments, included Dorothy Bergrath, Betty Hill, Esther Williams, Shirley Madden, Dee Ann Miller, Donna Wetherholt, Mary Ann Evans, Robin Painter, Dorothy Phelps, Connie Lipe, Martha Whitehead, Gail Jacobs.

Peggy Gundstaff, Veda Landreth, Lucille Prewett, Donna Hanson, Mary Lou Carbaugh, Rosalie Gabriel, Donna Louis, Judy Williams, Gail Jacobs, Donna Sprinkle, Carol Badgett, Sue Fultz, Kathy Goclan, Cheryl Crawford, Julie Marzull and Delores Allen.

Artists from Affiliate 31, who exhibited their work, were Judy Broshaw, Marie Benson, Margaret Scott, Diane Birtley, Carol Law, Mildred Aldridge, Sally Roberts, Barb Painter, Juanita Fuchs, Brenda Cant, Josie Lemus, Wilene Gregory, Marcella Tucker, Joelle Prewett, Earl Tucker and Sheila Morgan.

Chapter selects queen candidate

Mrs. Linda Koenig conducted a welcoming ritual and conferred the exemplar degree on Mrs. Linda Johnson, formerly of Alton, at a meeting of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Progress reports on the Southern Illinois area convention to be held in April were submitted by Mrs. Donna Lane and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Lane was selected to represent the chapter at the sorority's annual benefit ball in February.

A program on Spain, highlighted with pictures of the bull fights, was given by Mrs. Pat Winters, who recently visited there.

Mrs. May Ebling was hostess for the meeting and served a dessert course to those mentioned and to Miss Marilyn Lumpkins, Miss Jane Davis and Mesdames Lois Mullen, Sally Stiegelmeyer, JoAnn Maciel, Marty Herman, JoAnn Kier and Carol Cather.

A Halloween costume party was planned for Oct. 23 at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Kubelka.

Future Secretaries hear panel

A panel of secretaries, with work experience ranging from 8 years to over 30 years, spoke to the senior members and prospective junior members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association at their first meeting of the new school year.

The meeting was held last week in the cafeteria at Granite City High School South. About 90 students were in attendance.

FSA President Anita Simmers presided and introduced the panel of secretaries. The panel included Mrs. Peggy Moore, Metal Services Co.; Mrs. Carol Kovach, Mallinckrodt; Mrs. Joyce Savich, Ralston Purina; Mrs. Anne Smith, Retired Seniors Volunteer Program; and Mrs. Sally Gracy, retired. Mrs. Charlie Vunovic of First Union, Inc., acted as moderator.

Among the topics covered by the panelists were the ways in which they obtained their jobs, and the type of work they did.

The students questioned the panel members about starting salaries for high school graduates, and the type of testing that various companies use during job interviews.

Following the discussion, Dorothy Miller reported on a board of directors meeting held

Thorngate club opens season

In keeping with the fall season, members of the Thorngate Garden Club answered roll call by relating their most memorable Halloween experiences at a meeting held last week in the home of Mrs. Wanda Kincaid.

Members agreed to assist with the beautification of the Madison County nature trail by planting two dozen tulip bulbs now and later in the spring to plant summer flowers along the trail.

Betty King, president, announced plans for a meeting to be held on Nov. 13 at the Professional Shelter Home in Troy and a tour of the Pore Marquette State Park on Nov. 20.

Those attending were Mesdames Lillian Deips, Beulah Miller, Carolyn Moser, Pat Polley, Helen Polley, Clara Schilling, Pearl Young, Marilyn Deatherage, June Lux and Jean Bethel.

Stanley Coleman attends seminar

Stanley Coleman of Stanley's Beauty Salon, 4060 Pontoon Road, has returned from Chicago where he attended the Jhirrmack Enterprises, Inc., 1974 Congress of Beauty.

The three-day meeting was held for cosmetologists and salon owners to bring the newest beauty products, natural vitamins and food supplements to the attention of the cosmetologists.

Theme of the seminar was to instill a more knowledgeable and professional approach in the beauty industry and was climaxed by a banquet and presentation of certificates to 300 people who attended the event.

VENICE PARENTS TO MEET THURSDAY

Amvets post to host families

Mrs. Betty Wilkins, president of Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51, presided at a meeting at the Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive, when donations were made to various individuals, organizations and hospitalized veterans.

Child Welfare Chairman Jackie Petras reported a $25 donation, plus food and clothing, was taken to a needy family and Mrs. Pauline Wickham, S.O.S. chairman, announced a cash donation, package and many cards have been sent to hospitalized veterans, including patients at John Cochran Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Wilkins said several members attended the Township Senior Citizen Club opening and presented several games and playing cards on behalf of the club.

Dues for the 1975 club year are now payable. After Jan. 1, the rate will be increased, according to Mrs. Glenda Brockman, membership chairman.

Volunteers in community projects reported members participated in the door-to-door campaign for the Cystic Fibrosis drive and Mrs. Lorena Varner said 28 cards have been sent to Quad-City families.

Mrs. Ann Tucker, hospital chairman, announced 95½ verified hours in hospital work and that she is still active in the MIA POW campaign.

A donation was voted to the Amvets Auxiliary national scholarship fund and members agreed to continue serving food at all Amvets turkey shoots to be held each Saturday until Christmas.

A Halloween party for members and their families will take place at 7 p.m. Oct. 31, and costume prizes will be presented to children attending.

Hostesses Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Brockman served refreshments in keeping with a fall decorating theme created by Mrs. Margie Smith and Mrs. Charlene Sanders.

The "white elephant" prize was won by Mrs. Varner. Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Hilda Moberg of Long Beach, Calif. The next meeting is scheduled on Oct. 23.

Open house Tuesday at Wilson School

The executive board of Wilson School PTA finalized plans for an open house and bake sale from 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday during a meeting last week at the school.

Mrs. Harriet Evans, president, announced a rummage sale and fish fry will take place on Oct. 26 on the school grounds.

Board members also talked about starting a "junk" playground and agreed to present the proposal to PTA members at the next meeting.

Mrs. Santagato birthday honoree

Mrs. Helen Santagato received a birthday gift from her secret pal and a decorated cake during a meeting of the Bunkoettes on Thursday evening.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Florida Balsom, 4030 Garden Lane, for the social event. Games were played and the hostess presented prizes to Mesdames Ruth Farney, Dorothy Barnett, Helen Lipchik, and Julia Portell.

Also attending were Mesdames Jean Barnes, Evelyn McCollegan, Rose Drube and May Ebling.

As the study committee concluded, Southern Illinois University's two campuses cannot operate efficiently with three administrative bodies

The Ad Hoc Committee on Board and Executive Officer Relationships stated the case for autonomy well in its report Thursday to the Southern Illinois University board.

The special committee had been asked for its advice and concluded unanimously that there should be principal reliance on the presidents at Edwardsville and Carbondale, rather than building up a third administration—under the "chief of board staff"—which would either gobble up the other two administrations or render them ineffective.

The board chairman is cool to the recommendation and saw many obstacles in implementing it during his response Thursday. However, many friends of the university and its two campuses are hopeful that a board majority will find ways to make a strong-president system work.

Excerpts from the 20-member committee's report follow:

While there are similarities and conditions which lend advantage to the systems concept, it is possible to distinguish real differences between Carbondale and Edwardsville which in the committee's opinion make the need for autonomy clear and conclusive.

The commonalities of the campuses grew from two intimately related facts: Southern Illinois is a definable political entity with which the SIU system has become closely identified. The presidency of Delyte W. Morris established at SIU a tradition of open access and community involvement.

Indeed, the present SIU system was a direct response effected by President Morris to the needs of the Southern Illinois region.

The differences between the campuses are no less real. SIUC is the cultural center of the downtown of the state, which is primarily rural in character. Were it not for the exhibitions, performances and public forums presented by the university, there would be few such activities available.

In contrast, SIUE is one of many components of the cultural life of a metropolitan area; while contributing to the larger whole, the university community shares in the diverse resources afforded by a major urban complex.

In terms of internal governance, faculty organization and recent history, SIUC is fairly typical of large multipurpose universities in the Middle West. Its colleges and departments are structured largely along traditional lines; its representative bodies usually speak for explicit constituencies.

SIUE, on the other hand, which evolved from "Divisions," its principal representative body, the University Senate, combines all constituencies into a single deliberative body for policy making.

There are significant differences in the clientele; SIUC is a resident campus whereas SIUE is primarily a commuter campus. SIUC draws to its programs students from all parts of Illinois, while students at SIUE come from the surrounding Illinois counties and the St. Louis urban complex.

The two universities also differ in the nature of their academic programs, particularly at the graduate level. As at any university they both must, of necessity, offer a wide selection of standard programs at the undergraduate level. However, graduate-level instruction presents marked differences.

At SIUC graduate students, coming as they do from distant points, tend to devote themselves to full-time residents study. At SIUE, many graduate students, being locally employed, pursue part-time study and thus the emphasis here is based upon ongoing career education.

SIUC offers twenty Ph.D. programs in addition to master's and specialist's degrees, whereas at SIUE all graduate work is currently at the master's or specialist's levels. Programs of professional preparation are offered by SIUC in such areas as Agriculture, Law and Medicine and by SIUE in such areas as Dental Medicine and Nursing.

The most important requisite for the design of an administrative system is that it be functional, clear and, insofar as possible, simple.

Clarity and simplicity are achieved in part by making certain that administrative structure reflects on every level an overall design; that is, principles of management should be recognizably the same on all levels of the administrative structure. Mixed principles of management often result in inefficiency, personal rivalries and poor communication between administrative levels.

Effective systems of administration strive for a minimum number of relationships (linking levels of authority) consonant with the particular administrative task. A basic organizational rule is to build the least possible number of management levels and forge the shortest possible chain of command.

In effective administrative systems, decisions are made at the responsibility of the lowest administrative level possible in any given case. Although limits on the authority of administrators are necessary, such limits should not prevent decisions being made as closely as possible to the problem at issue.

This distribution of management functions can result in problems of coordination, but such problems are generally less serious than those that result from a regular deferral of vital decisions and initiatives.

The responsibilities of administration should be carefully distinguished from those of review/adult. A clear distinction between the Board of Trustees' responsibility to determine broad policy and to act on campus performance, and the corresponding necessity for delegation of actual managerial authority and responsibility, is essential.

In distinguishing the responsibilities of management from those of review/adult, the fundamental premise must be one of cooperation. An adversary basis for these tasks inevitably leads to a corrosive extension of this relationship throughout the system with a consequent weakening of the institution.

An administrative structure is needed in which the Board of Trustees can meet its legal responsibility fully and honorably without being compelled to involve itself in practical management functions.

Administrative duties should be assigned to the position, not tailored to the executive as an individual. If any executive lacks proper personal and professional qualifications to hold a given position, that executive should be replaced; carefully defined administrative responsibilities should not be changed.

The holder of each administrative position should have sufficient authority to carry out the given assignment.

If we don't accomplish anything else in life, we'll be able to look back and realize that we did our share of consuming.

Economists appear to travel in pairs, with one to disagree with whatever the other one says.

Following are some of the comments voiced here Thursday night by Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman of the board of Amsted Industries:

Why is the railroad business so good? In recent years, I'm certain all of you have read stories proclaiming that the railroads are a dying industry.

It's true the rails have thorny problems — such as over-regulation, excessive taxation and an inadequate return on investment. And some Eastern lines have fallen over the financial cliff into bankruptcy.

But the railroads are here to stay. They remain one of our most needed industries.

In 1973 alone, 840 billion tons of freight were carried by all the trucks, airplanes, and barges combined.

The railroads also employed nearly 1 million people and purchased in excess of $4 billion.

I can tell you... from my own experience as a director of the Central Illinois Gulf Railroad, and as chairman of a major railroad supplier, that the future of rail companies is much brighter than it was a few years ago.

I'd like to explain the reasons for this optimistic outlook.

Additional remarks by Amsted Industries Chairman Joseph B. Lanterman at Thursday night's annual dinner meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce:

While it is nice to have the excellent results that have been achieved by Amsted Industries and American Steel Foundries, it is only reasonable that we look to and become concerned with the future.

What are the challenges we face? What are the solutions? The highest inflation rate in our country's history certainly tops our list of concerns. It hits home every time we buy from food to clothes to education to electricity to gas to autos.

These needs include government spending that went unchecked and had no relationship to revenues... we need to increase productivity... and shortages of technical personnel...

Some of these shortages have been with us a long time. But now they are maturing into full blossom.

These needs include government spending that went unchecked and had no relationship to revenues... we need to increase productivity... and shortages of technical personnel...

The Arab oil embargo didn't cause these shortages, but it merely focused the spotlight of public attention upon them just a little sooner.

And the problem will get worse. For example, the limited natural resources available on this earth will have to support an estimated 7½ billion people by the year 2000. That's double the number today, and it will make competition for energy and food and other necessities more acute.

because the railroads are vital, not only to American Steel Foundries, but also to the entire Tri-Cities area.

Fourteen rail lines serve the area, and industry right here, and without them your entire economy would suffer.

Just recently I read an article on factors to look at for connection with choosing a location for a new plant, and rail connection was at the top of the list.

They are customers, they bring the raw materials for industry, and they move your finished goods to market.

Six major reasons stand out as the keys to the revitalized railroad picture.

One: In 1974, a generally high rate of industrial activity has helped keep railroad traffic at good levels. In fact, it now appears that the railroads could handle 900 billion tons of freight this year, an all-time record.

Two: The Penn-Central financial failure dramatized the railroad's importance to the public, and this has made Congress more receptive to favorable railroad legislation.

Three: Merit-based freight-rate increases have been granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reduction in government cooperation, older plants will fail, jobs will be lost, and the entire economy will suffer.

We have settled with the Steelworkers on a three-year contract and are currently negotiating contracts with other unions.

This brings me to the most misunderstood word in the English language... profit.

Some people consider it a bad word, symptomatic of greed which enriches the few at the expense of the many. That concept ignores the fact that profit is the fuel for our economic system.

It is the incentive which causes industry to expand and provide jobs... which brings forth new discoveries in all fields... which has made the American economic system the most efficient ever devised in the history of this earth.

At Amsted, profit is not a dirty word. We're proud of our profits, and they directly help you... right here in Granite City.

If Amsted had not diversified and remained a financially stable company, there would have been no profits to keep our railroad equipment plants in good condition at times when railroad ordering fell to low levels.

Because of our profits, we were able to install new electric furnaces at the Granite City plant and to equip the plant with the most efficient air pollution control system available.

We were able to modernize portions of our plant, to use and expand modernize the core-room.

We invested in a giant fatigue test machine to check the strength, endurance and service life of ASP's complete line of cast steel freight car components.

We had our Granite City plant

Four: Railroads are now more efficient. Freight cars are used more intensively, with some covering as much as 100,000 miles in a year.

Unit trains, automated freight yards, computerized keep track of freight cars, and larger, more specialized cars to attract custom are part of this trend toward more streamlined operations.

Five: Indirectly helping the railroads is the energy shortage. Railroads move about four times as much freight per gallon of fuel as big highway trucks and 125 times as much as cargo aircraft. They also generate a lot less air pollution while they're doing it and do not pollute our highways.

Six: The railroads' potential to meet the nation's freight hauling needs is tremendous. Without using even one more car, the railroads could increase their capacity to move goods by 50 percent.

I don't mean to spend so much time discussing the railroads, but it's hard to get carried away when you're talking about an industry that has been a good customer for more than 70 years. And we have not deemphasized our railroad business.

However, I should keep things in perspective by pointing out that railroad business now accounts for only about 40 per cent of Amsted's annual sales, as compared to practically 100 per cent not too many years ago. This is simply because of our company's expansion into so many non-railroad fields.

Today, Amsted is composed of 10 major units.

In addition to American Steel Foundries, we operate Griffin Wheel Company, Diamond Chain Company, Flexco, South Bend Lath, Griffin Pipe Products Co., Macwhyle Company, Burgess-Morton Mill Co., Litho-Strip Company, and Griffin Steel Foundries Ltd in Canada. Together they have 34 plants in 10 states and Canada and employ over 12,000 people.

This diversity has made Amsted an excellent barometer of the health of capital goods manufacturing, and I'd briefly like to touch on our current business outlook.

In addition to the railroads, Amsted's marketplace is divided into two other major categories: general industry and construction.

Our general industrial business is excellent and orders continue to come in at a good pace.

For industry, Amsted makes such needed components as roller chains and sprockets, rope, piston pins, powder metal parts such as gears, pre-coated steel, sheets, and machine tools.

Our sales to the construction industry in 1974 were about the same as in 1973. Primary products for this market are cast iron pressure pipe for water transmission and vitrified clay pipe for waste removal.

These items are tied to housing starts, and with tight money and high interest rates, we all know what happened to that segment of the economy in 1974. Right now, it's lower than a snake's belly.

On balance, however, it was an outstanding year.

Although Amsted's fiscal 1974 financial results won't be released to the press until the last week in October, I can tell you that both sales and earnings reached all-time highs.

Sales were more than $450 million for the first time in history, and net income after taxes was substantially better than last year's record of $15,100,000.

Without this attitude, voters will insist on more regulations, and government rules will bind us, twist us apart, and finally bury us.

We should remain ever mindful of the fact that if economic freedom is lost, political freedom too will eventually be lost. These are the freedoms that caused my forefathers and ASP Works Manager Mitch Milonski's father to come to this country.

I do not mean that managers should sacrifice their business to satisfy unreasonable public demands. There must be tradeoffs.

But responsibility should be the keynote — whether it be in the areas of prices, wages, equal employment, pollution control, truth in advertising, or product quality.

The only way we in the business community can nurture freedom in our society is by making decisions which are people-oriented decisions which will brush away the clouds of mistrust which have formed.

With this attitude of give-and-take and open-mindedness, mankind will continue to prosper.

'responsible freedom' is urged

Campaign finance law would magnify minor parties

Wall Street Journal — A campaign financing bill floated through Congress last week on a tide of moralistic fervor and calculating self-interest.

Before it goes any further, we hope President Ford will give deep thought to some potentially dangerous consequences that haven't received sufficient public debate.

An article by Marc F. Plattner in The Public Interest questions whether some of the potential changes this bill could produce in American politics, and it isn't a pretty picture.

Even after the conference committee compromise, the spending limits (favor congressional incumbents) and the ban on public financing principle, even limited to presidential campaigns, can destabilize the two-party system.

As Mr. Plattner demonstrates, public financing inevitably runs afoul of the problem of minor parties.

Funds for the two major parties alone would clearly be discriminatory, and probably unconstitutional.

Yet, as Mr. Plattner states, significant third parties "have generally had a very short life span."

They usually emerge in a period of crisis when the two major parties are going through a realignment of their constituencies.

It seems impossible to devise a formula for funding these parties without giving them some motive for outlasting their natural existence, and possibly lengthening the political crisis that produced them.

Of course, one can argue that no amount of money can reverse the political forces that make and break these third-party movements.

But the bill on the President's desk will provide such generous funding that it is a stretch to believe that Eugene McCarthy, who is sorely tempted to make the experiment.

For example, which even the Center for Public Financing describes as "generous," provides that any minor party candidate who receives 1 per cent of its popular vote to the average of the major party vote.

This ratio can be calculated on the preceding election or, if the party is new, on a reimbursement basis for the current election.

Not only is there no four-year wait for the funds for a rising party, a dying party can still mount a lavishly funded propaganda effort (at the taxpayers' expense) based on the positions of a previous election. And the funding is much larger than it looks.

Consider what would have happened if this bill were law in 1972.

In 1968, Wallace got roughly 10 million votes to 30 million each for Nixon and Humphrey. So his successor on the American Independent Party slate would be eligible for one-third of the public funding provided for the Democrat and the Republican.

In other words, AIP candidate John Schmitz (remember him?) would have received more than six million dollars from the Treasury, for doing nothing more than getting on a sufficient number of state ballots.

Fortunately, Congress stopped short of sowing this kind of funding chaos in congressional elections, in spite of the moral posturings of Senator Kennedy and the like.

But the avoidance of such a "reformers" failed to prevent it from inserting congressional campaign spending limits that clearly favor incumbents.

Low spending limits are good for members of the House, with their free publicity, franking privilege and tax-paid trips to the district, because they discourage potential opponents.

The effect on Senate races is less clear.

Congressmen know this better than anyone else, but advocates of reform deserve credit for objecting loudly when the original limits were set at a high level.

But the compromise level, $70,000 for House primaries and $70,000 for House general elections, still favors the incumbent.

According to Common Cause figures, the average expenditure for the 17 candidates last election who managed to unseat incumbents was $141,000 in the primary and $125,000 in the general election.

Mr. Plattner observes that "changes in political procedures can very easily produce changes in political results."

Most of the unintended, and in fact, unpredictable, consequences that he warns about could be avoided, we feel, if federal policy continued along the lines of the 1971 campaign reforms.

One law focused on full disclosure of contributions, instead of the more dangerous procedural changes.

These distortions abound in the present bill.

This is the natural result of the indignation over Watergate, which has aroused uncritical public opinion. Its reforms are obscured thought about their impact.

So same emotion, unfortunately, will make it very difficult for President Ford to veto the bill. But the present situation is just the sort a veto was designed for.

I'm out of material for a book—how about if I get indicted?

Burditt campaign having little impact on voters

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record

The "Gentleman's Race" is turning out to be a dud. Last spring there were encouraging signs that the race between Democratic incumbent U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, 44, and Republican challenger George Burditt, 51, would mark a new and interesting departure from the traditional style of Illinois politics.

Both are considered highly intelligent, honorable, articulate men who could debate and discuss the issues of the time with an objectivity and grasp unmatched since the historic Lincoln-Douglas debates of more than a century ago.

But it hasn't turned out that way. There were several debates early in the campaign in which Burditt did well and for a time raised Republican hopes that he might have a chance to win after all.

But the big trouble with the debates was that no one appeared to be listening. There was no impact whatsoever on the voting public.

The campaign has continued in similar fashion with Stevenson playing it cool, keeping a low profile and carefully avoiding rocking the political boat. These are admittedly all clichés but they do accurately describe the senatorial campaign.

It is a pity. George Burditt deserves a better fate than to be ignored by the voters of Illinois. For he has waged a high level, informative campaign and has spoken clearly and forcefully on the leading issues of the day.

Surprising to many, perhaps, it has been Burditt and not Stevenson who has most often taken unpopular positions on controversial issues.

A prominent example is the amnesty issue. Burditt, in substance, backs the proposal of President Ford, that draft evaders should be permitted to return to the country with an understanding that charges against them would be dropped after they completed two years of alternative-type service.

To many, especially veterans' groups, Ford's proposal has been about as popular as his early granting of a pardon to former President Nixon.

Burditt gained no favor from Illinois veterans' groups with his stand and especially so since Stevenson promptly adopted a hard line. He contends that draft evasion cases should continue to be handled by the courts.

Burditt has been boxed in from the beginning by Watergate and Mr. Ford's pardon for Nixon is another big burden in his decidedly uphill fight.

Burditt has risked alienating some loyal Nixonites by stating that the pardon was premature and that Nixon's guilt or innocence should have been established and a pardon provided only to keep him out of jail.

But above all else name recognition remains Burditt's big problem. Nobody knows him, but everybody knows Stevenson—or at least the name.

With morale low throughout Republican party ranks and general voter apathy apparently a record, Burditt has failed to pick up any ground. He probably has less money to spend in his campaign than any major GOP candidate in Illinois in modern times. Mass television advertising is out of the question. Too expensive.

Waste center depends on EPA grant

If the City of Edwardsville is successful in getting a grant from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to establish a regional solid waste recycling center it may be located in Southern Illinois University property.

Administrators at SIUE advised the Board of Trustees here Thursday they hope to arrange to lease approximately three fourths of an acre in the southwest corner of the Wagner complex in Edwardsville to the city, provided a grant is received and provided that the city can negotiate an access easement across adjoining non-university property to permit truck traffic from Troy Row.

The City of Edwardsville would pay a yet to be determined amount from proceeds of the IEPA grant for a 25-year lease. The city would operate the recycling plant which would be the first Illinois plant in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Beware—gold brick may make comeback

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott is warning Illinois residents of the possibility of the return of the con man's "gold brick" as, for the first time since 1933, sale and possession of gold bullion by U.S. citizens becomes permissible on Jan. 1.

"Because the sale and possession of gold has been unregulated for 40 years, the possibilities for fraudulent activities in this area are very great," Attorney General Scott cautioned.

Scott pointed out that in these times of economic uncertainty, the appeal of gold will be increased as consumers seek various ways to achieve financial security. Possession of precious metals, particularly gold, has been viewed as one of the traditional safeguards against economic instability. "But it also may be an invitation to the confidence man operating door to door or by mail or by spurious advertisements. In the old days unscrupulous salesmen covered bricks with gilt paint and sold them to unwary buyers as gold

Establish folklore archive

A Southern Illinois Folklore Archive will be established at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The SIUE Board of Trustees approved the archive in a meeting here Thursday. The board's action formalizes work by John Oldani, assistant professor of English, who has led University efforts to collect 56,000 folklore texts on campus. The archive will be the only one of its kind in Illinois. A resolution establishing the archive says the University will survey existing folk traditions in southern Illinois, collect folk texts and related materials, establish procedures to record and transcribe major folk types found in the area and make the archive collection available to researchers and others interested in the subject.

CASH STOLEN CHECK

A tall slender woman, about 30, cashed a $185 check at Cohen's Market, 2301 Illinois Ave., Oct. 4, which had been stolen that day from Park 'N Eat, Niedringhaus and Madison avenues, authorities were notified last week.

The SIUE folklore collection is already recognized by the Library of Congress for listing in the Directory of Libraries and Muppmans.

It could happen again unless the consumer is aware that any such purchases should be made only through reputable sources. Particularly, consumers should be wary of 'bargain-rate' gold and 'guaranteed' profits on gold bullion. Attorney General Scott said that when the federal government issues its guidelines about the sale and possession of bullion, his office will formulate plans to help protect the consumer.

Daniel W. Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Welborn, 1735 Third St., has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force, according to Sergeant George Habbert, local Air Force recruiter.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Airman Welborn departed for Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., where he will enter six weeks of basic military training. Upon completion of this training he will be assigned to a technical school to receive training as a Telecommunications Control Specialist.

More information about enlistment in the United States Air Force may be obtained from Sergeant Habbert at 1204 Niedringhaus Avenue, Granite City, phone 876-8225.

Cartoonist to give lecture

"The Evolution of the Editorial Cartoonist" will be the subject of cartoonist Tom Englehardt when he gives a lecture demonstration at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Born in St. Louis in 1930, Englehardt began drawing two years before starting his formal education. He says his elementary schooling was supplemented by daily exposure to "the powerful editorial cartoons of Daniel R. Fitzpatrick."

He studied formally at the now defunct Music and Arts College in St. Louis, Denver and Washington universities, School of Visual Arts in New York, and at Oxford University in England.

Returning to New York City in the late 1950s, Englehardt began freelancing in the cartoon, advertising and television fields, eventually landing a job in 1960 as the second-string editorial cartoonist for a newspaper syndicate in Cleveland. After a year in Cleveland, he returned to freelancing and in October 1962 joined the Post-Dispatch.

The lecture demonstration by Englehardt will be held in the Communications Building theater at SIUE. Admission for the general public is $1. SIUE faculty and students will be admitted for 50 cents.

Co-sponsors are the Department of Mass Communications at SIUE and the student chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi.

NANCY LIVESAY, BETTY PAUL

County Supt. Briggs unopposed on Nov. 5

Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, who is serving as superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region, holds the Democratic nomination for that office and is unopposed Nov. 5.

Formerly assistant superintendent of the Educational Service Region, he advanced to the position when Supt. Wilbur R. L. Trimpe accepted the presidency of Lewis and Clark Community College.

Briggs, 47, resides in Nameoki Township with his wife, Elizabeth Ann, a teacher at Parkview School. Their sons are Gene Jr., 19, a student at SIUE, and Tim, 14, a student at Granite City High School North.

Briggs became assistant superintendent of Madison County schools eight years ago. His previous experience of 15½ years in the Granite City Community Unit School District included service as a teacher, Stallings School principal and then Mitchell School principal.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree from McKendree College (1959), master of science degree in education from SIUC (1957) and educational specialist certificate from SIUE (1969).

His certification includes limited state high school certificate, limited elementary supervisory certificate, all-grade supervisory certificate and an administrative certificate with general supervisory endorsement, general administrative endorsement and superintendent endorsement.

He was born and reared in the Quad-City area. He served in the U. S. Marine Service (Merchant Marine) in 1944-46, U. S. Naval Reserve in 1947-51 and U. S. Marine Corps Reserve from 1951 until 1970, when he retired with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He served on active duty with the Marine Corps during the Korean war.

Briggs is past president of the Illinois Education Association's Marquette Division and Phi Delta Kappa's Gateway East Field Chapter.

He was chairman for six years of the Madison County Curriculum Council and was presented a life membership in the Illinois Congress of Parent and Teachers by the Mitchell School PTA.

Briggs is a member of Netherland United Methodist Church, Moose Lodge 275, Eagles Aerie 1126 and the Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association.

HAROLD E. BRIGGS

His memberships also include the Illinois Association of School Administrators and School Business Officials, the Rural Education Association and the Illinois Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

Deputy's car in Pontoon mishap

An accident at 2:30 a.m. Sunday at Pontoon and Maryville roads involved a Madison County Sheriff's Department vehicle, operated by Deputy Paul E. Gorby, 2708 National Ave., and an auto driven by Rudy G. Pyle, 2508 Angela Drive.

The county officer alleged he was traveling west on Pontoon with emergency red lights flashing when Pyle's vehicle pulled into the intersection.

Suit filed in Mockingbird lane fatality

Norfolk and Western Railway Co. and Alton and Southern Railway Co. have been named defendants in a two-count suit seeking $200,000 in each count, filed in Madison County Circuit Court by Mrs. Beverly Nunn in behalf of the estate of her late husband, Jeffrey Nunn.

Nunn, 21, of 3204 Davis Ave., was injured fatally in a truck-train accident at the Mockingbird Lane crossing, north of Route 162, on Sept. 2.

Witnesses said the pickup truck Mr. Nunn was driving was northbound when the driver apparently noticed the train approaching and applied his brakes. The truck skidded onto the tracks and a westbound Norfolk and Western train was said to have struck the right side of the truck.

Mrs. Nunn alleged that the Mockingbird Lane railroad crossing intersection was extra hazardous and was not protected by adequate warning devices to warn motorists of approaching trains.

Count one of the suit charges Norfolk & Western with failure to operate its train at a safe speed through an urban area, failure to apply brakes on the train, failure to keep a lookout and failure to blow a whistle while approaching and entering the crossing.

Alton and Southern Railway is charged in count two, as the alleged operator and maintainer of the railroad tracks and crossing, with failure to install adequate visual, physical, and audible warning devices.

CROWNING AT SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL last week. Miss Melanie Asadorian, May queen of 1974, bestows a crown on the new homecoming queen, Terri Moran.

Oral pathology program approved by SIU Board

A specialty certificate program in oral pathology has been authorized at the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine, subject to the approval of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Members of the SIU Board of Trustees on Thursday approved the specialty, which would be offered on a cooperative basis, using faculty from the St. Louis University Medical School to complement SIUE School of Dental Medicine faculty.

The University's operating budget request for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 includes $8,000 to help implement the certificate program. St. Louis University Medical School faculty who provided instruction would not be compensated by SIUE. Instead, laboratory services would be provided by the SIUE

School of Dental Medicine to the SLU Medical School.

Oral pathologists are in great demand, but only 10 were trained in the United States during the last year, trustees were told. Establishment of the certificate program is expected to increase availability of oral pathologists in central and southern Illinois.

The specialty certificate program will be open to students who have completed the doctor of dental medicine degree at SIUE, or a corresponding basic dental education degree elsewhere.
